25 Japanese Ships Blasted to Bottom

By MAC R. JOHNSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—Carrier planes of the Third Fleet struck powerful new blows along a 250-mile stretch of the French Indo-China coast today after wrecking 38 Japanese ships in the first phase of an assault that apparently has smashed a major enemy attempt to reinforce embattled Luzon.

Carrying the attack into its second day, hundreds of dive bombers, torpedo planes and fighters hammered at shipping, airdromes and other enemy installations from Saigon in the south to Quinon in the north.

Grey North Voters Urged To Elect Defence Minister

Short Session

Prime Minister Will Not Extend Term of House

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King's message to the electors of Grey North last night made it clear that he will not seek an extension of parliament's five-year term and, by implication, conveyed the intimation that in the event of Defence Minister McNaughton's defeat in the by-election Feb. 5 there might be no further meeting of the present parliament.

The message gave the following as the probable course of events in the event of Gen. McNaughton's election:

1. Parliament would meet for a short session to pass necessary war measures, such as the war appropriation bill and other financial measures.

END BY APRIL 17

2. The sitting would end sometime before April 17 when parliament is automatically dissolved.

3. A general election would follow.

Britons Capture Laroche Gorge In Hard Fight

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(CP-Reuters)—Front reports yesterday described how a British 2nd Army formation won a decisive battle for the Laroche Gorge in the Ardennes salient. With German machine-guns and mortars belching fire from heights overlooking the gorge, they stormed up the steep cliff face until they could get within grenade range of the Germans. Then one by one the Germans toppled down into the river or slumped over their guns.

The Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Svenska Dagbladet said "the Baranov bridgehead is crammed with bursting Russian soldiers and material."

Rehabilitation Programs BOB HAS EYES OPENED AT SOLDIER HOSPITAL

By BOB HOPE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13.—The rehabilitation programs of some of the hospitals are eye-opening. For instance, at Birmingham General hospital in Van Nuys, Cal., they do a great job showing the boys how to be a success in civilian life. They use occupational therapy. Teach 'em self-confidence—and give 'em two cartons of cigarettes.

They teach these fellows to find new uses for their hands. But it was a problem finding new uses for their feet. They tried and tried. Finally, they got me to come up there.

Northrop Aviation Company has an assembly line right there in the hospital for patients to assemble plane parts. But they had to move it to a separate building.

A few weeks ago one of the planes was over Italy in a dogfight before it was discovered the tailgunner had to shoot from the right ventricle of a hot water bottle.

Call-Up Changes

Labor Minister Mitchell today announced that men discharged from the armed forces who have not had service outside Canada, with three exceptions, are in future to be subject to military call-up.

The new rule comes into effect Jan. 15 and ends the present practice of not calling men who have had three years or more service in Canada. The practice is not to call men with overseas service records.

Announcement of the change was made by Mr. Mitchell on behalf of selective service and the defence departments. He said the change followed recommendations from several mobilization boards, the selective service advisory board and discussions with a group of senior officers of the forces.

THREE EXCEPTIONS

Exemption for those with overseas service applies also to men who have served with the Royal Canadian Navy in international waters and to RCAF personnel who have had operational duty on either coast.

Graduated aircrew personnel of the RCAF, transferred to the special aircrew reserve, will also be exempt.

"The defence departments and national selective service recognize that with the closing of the training plan these personnel constitute an essential source of aircrew requirements for the RCAF, immediately available to meet commitments for the European war and the sub-

Indian Units Make Landing at Burma

KANDY, Ceylon, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—Troops of the 15th Indian Corps, covered by a naval and air bombardment, have landed on Myebon peninsula, 32 miles southeast of Akyab on the western coast of Burma, a southeast Asia communication said today.

The Japanese pummeled the invasion forces with artillery and machine-gun fire but failed to prevent the Indian troops from establishing a bridgehead.

The date or the exact location of the landing was not disclosed. The peninsula is approximately 20 miles long and juts out into the Bay of Bengal, just south of newly-occupied Akyab.

To Assist Veterans Experts Ready to Answer Rehabilitation Questions

Rehabilitation of the gallant men and women who have served Canada in the Second World War has become one of the most stupendous tasks in the history of the Dominion. Underlying the importance of rehabilitation has been the establishment of a department of veterans' affairs.

To meet the gigantic problem parliament has passed several new acts, each having concomitant regulations of a complex nature. Canadian war veterans may obtain cash gratuities, rehabilitation credits, trade training or farm lands for settlement. Specific regulations cover each and every benefit. There are Dependents' Allowances and Pensions.

Because many veterans find the regulations concerning these benefits confusing The Edmonton Bulletin has set up a new department to be known as the War Veterans Questions and Answers department.

Under this heading each Saturday question concerning rehabilitation will be answered. Veterans are urged to take advantage of this service by writing letters of inquiry to The Bulletin, concerning any phase of rehabilitation benefits they do not understand.

Only questions concerning the various acts will be answered. Problems of a personal nature or complaints concerning treatment can not be handled by the department. Letters should be brief and clear. Names and addresses must be given by each person making inquiry although names will not necessarily be published if the writer does not so desire. In such cases the answers will be published and directed to the person's initials. All answers to letters will come from highly qualified sources.

The first question to be dealt with in this department will concern gratuities.

Would you please tell me if I am entitled to gratuity and if so in what amount?

Fronts in Poland, East Prussia, Czechoslovakia Scenes of Battle

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—Alarmed Nazi broadcasts said today that the Red Army had opened two more major offensives in East Prussia and Czechoslovakia and that a "gigantic struggle of decisive importance is raging" on a 600-mile front between the Baltic and the Danube valley.

Planes Blast Germans Fleeing From Bulge

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—Lt. Gen. Hodges' U.S. First Army smashed into the northeastern shoulder of the Ardennes salient in a new attack along a nine-mile front between Stavelot and Malmédy today. They are driving a spearhead 1,200 yards into the German defences. British and U.S. forces now are hammering the perimeter of the salient on an 80-mile front curving from Malmédy around to the southwest and back to Gen. Patton's Third Army sector on the right wing of Bastogne.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—American fighter-bombers turned out in good weather today to blast a column of 700 to 1,000 German vehicles apparently trying to find a safe escape route back to Germany from the threatened Houffalize-St. Vith sector.

V-Bomb Lands Behind Stage, Music Goes On

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—A V-bomb landed behind the stage of a crowded theatre in southern England recently but the orchestra, some of whose members suffered cuts, played for 15 minutes and averted a panic it was disclosed today.

The bomb struck behind the dressing rooms, wrecking that section of the theatre. Water poured onto the orchestra from broken tanks above the stage.

"The principal girl of a pantomime was on the stage alone," F. Wright, a stage hand, said. "The place rocked and some of the roof behind the stage and the scenery fell in. The stage manager went to a microphone and appealed to the audience to keep quiet. The orchestra started playing and went on for a quarter of an hour. It stopped after a panic."

A front dispatch from John McDermott, British United Press correspondent with the American First Army, said the Germans apparently were running the gauntlet to Houffalize from where they hoped to find back roads and secondary highways along which to move toward Germany without undergoing the harassing American artillery fire.

The Third Armored Division and the Second Armored Artillery have been plastering the highway with "everything but the kitchen sink," McDermott reported.

Quiet Is General On Italian Front

ROME, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Quiet prevailed yesterday all along the Allied front in Italy, it was announced today.

It was probable worsening weather was responsible for the lull, although previously improved conditions had permitted sharp patrol action in several sectors, notably on the Reno river front at the Adriatic extremity of the battleline.

Here the 1st Canadian Corps, attached to the British 8th Army, was reported seeking to break a German defence position which enemy prisoners said Hitler had ordered held "at any cost."

Widen Beachhead Yanks Drive Into Enemy's Luzon Flank

By WILLIAM B. DICKINSON
GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, LUZON, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—Sixth Army forces have driven six miles into the enemy's fortified flank on the eastern shore of Lingayen Gulf under supporting fire of American warships, widening the American beachhead to at least 26 miles, a front dispatch disclosed today.

The thrust from San Fabian, former northeastern anchor of the beachhead, carried to the coastal town of Ibabon, four and a half miles southwest of Rosario airfield, 18 miles from Baguio and 39 miles south of San Fernando, the latter the centre of a strong Japanese concentration.

Forty-six Japanese freighters and coastal vessels attempting to land reinforcements and supplies at San Fernando, Thursday were intercepted by American naval units, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiqué reported, and when the smoke of furious shellfire cleared, all 46 had been sunk or damaged heavily.

NEW U.S. LANDINGS
Radio Tokyo said two American convoys already have landed troops and supplies on the Lingayen Gulf and a third of more than 100 transports, 100-odd landing craft and 10 escorting aircraft carrier had arrived in the gulf. Tokyo also speculated that other American landings were impending at Balthanas, southwest of Manila and Lamon Bay, southeast of the capital.

(The Japanese Domei agency asserted that the American forces on the southern flank of the beachhead are moving on Aguirre (possibly Aguirre, 10 and 1/2 miles inland) on the Agno river and that a major ground clash on the Continued on Page 2, Col. 2

Helsinki Envoy Assigned by U.S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The United States is resuming relations with Finland, on an informal basis.

The state department announced yesterday that President Roosevelt has approved the assignment of Maxwell W. Hamilton with the personal rank of minister to Helsinki.

The United States broke off relations with Finland last June after reports to arrange a Russo-Finnish peace had failed.

An external affairs department spokesman at Ottawa said there was no change in the status of relations between Canada and Finland which are still technically at war.

He did not elaborate but it was considered likely that the matter of Canadian Finnish relations are under review in the light of the Baltic nation's withdrawal from the side of Germany in the war against Russia.

Balmy Weather To Continue Here

Balmy, spring-like weather continues to hold in the Edmonton area and prospects are that it will continue over the week-end with the official forecast reading "clearing tonight, partly cloudy and continuing mild Sunday."

Winds registering up to 54 miles an hour and averaging 25 miles an hour during Friday afternoon brought a trace of rain which freezing temperatures converted into ice. Maximum temperature yesterday was 40 above and the minimum overnight was 10 above. At 2 p.m. it was 26 above, and the estimated high for the day is 30 above; the overnight low is estimated at 15 above, and the high tomorrow, 30 above.

Canucks Fought With Skytroops

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(CP-Reuters)—Canadian troops fought with the British 6th Airborne Division until Jan. 11 in stemming the German thrust into Belgium. It was permitted to be revealed today.

There was no further amplification in this dispatch but Berlin reported today that they were among Allied troops which recaptured St. Hubert, southwestern anchor town in the Belgian salient on Thursday.

A front dispatch last night from Charles Lynch, Reuters war correspondent, said Canadian paratroopers, veterans of last summer's Normandy fighting, had engaged in fighting in the Ardennes sector. His dispatch implied they no longer were in action.

The British 6th Airborne Division fought east of the Orne river in Normandy north and northeast of Caen shortly after the invasion and was disclosed subsequently that the unit included Canadians.

Former City Man Granted Reprieve

Harrison is a former resident of Edmonton.

also attacked Saigon last night, but there was no confirmation from American sources that land based bombers had joined in the attack. The Tokyo broadcast said 20 Superfortresses were shot down by Japanese fighters and ground defenses.

AMERICAN SCORE

A Pacific fleet communiqué disclosed that 23 ships, including six and possibly 12 transports, a 5,800-ton Kato class light cruiser, several destroyers and destroyer escorts, were sunk and 13 other vessels damaged heavily in the initial attacks yesterday (Indo-China time). Thirty nine Japanese planes also were destroyed.

"At last reports, our service forces have suffered no damage and were continuing their attacks," Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced.

At least four Japanese convoys were hit in yesterday's strikes and it was theorized that some, if not all, had embarked on an attempt to move additional troops and supplies to Luzon, about 1,000 miles to the east.

Early advices gave no clue whether the convoys had been wiped out completely, but it appeared certain they had been forced to disperse. Such ships as might have escaped may be overhauled yet and blasted to the bottom.

At the time of the Japanese invasion of the Philippines there were 32,000 radio receiving sets in the islands.

Soviets Open 3 Great New Winter Drives

tration area east of Komarno on the Danube; fourthly, the area of the Hungarian-Slovak border; fifthly, the vital bridgehead west of Baranow; and sixthly, the East Prussian fighting zone.

"It must be assumed that the Soviets will still further enlarge the scenes of the fighting."

In addition to the major battle zones, the Germans reported flare-ups of undetermined significance in sectors scattered along the entire length of the eastern front.

ALL COMES TO LIFE

The entire vista line across Poland appeared to be coming to life. North of the Sandomierz bridgehead 120 miles south of Warsaw where the main opening blow was struck, Berlin said the Russians attacked in the Karimierz area 28 miles west of Lublin and Magnuszew on the east bank of the Vistula 30 miles south of Warsaw.

Beyond the East Prussian front to the north, brisk fighting was reported in the western coastal area of Latvia, where the Red Army apparently sought to erase a potential threat to the right flank of the forces attacking on German soil.

The East Prussian attack opened on a 12-mile front between Pilsken and Eudkau, the Nazis said, and evidently was aimed at the key transport junction of Insterburg and the capital city of Königsberg beyond.

POSITIONS UNDER FIRE

The German high command said its positions on both sides of Rominten Heath in southeastern East Prussia lay under heavy artillery fire, indicating that the frontal onslaught on the easternmost German province embraced virtually all of its eastern border zone.

"This morning the Soviets resumed fighting at full pitch in East Prussia," von Hammer said.

A Berlin communiqué said of the Polish drive reported by Nazi broadcasts yesterday:

"On the Vistula front the long expected Soviet winter offensive has started. After extraordinary strong artillery preparations the enemy launched his offensive first in the Baranow bridgehead with numerous infantry divisions and tank formations."

The German DNB agency also reported that the Soviets had thrown at least three armies, two tank corps and other independent units into the first of its long-awaited winter offensives, which admittedly already had breached the outer Nazi defenses before Karkow in southern Poland.

In Budapest, meanwhile, the Russians threw the full weight of their armor and infantry forces on the east and west banks of the Danube river. Compressed into two narrow pockets in Buda and the east bank section of Pest, the Nazis and their Hungarian allies appeared to be cracking up rapidly under the merciless pounding of Russian guns and tanks.

No Indication Tram Strike Will End Soon

him no officials of his department had been authorized to issue any such statement.

BCER officials who have refused consistently to negotiate with union officials because the strike had been held illegal believed the original Ottawa report gave them authority to confer with representatives of the men.

The Vancouver News-Herald said in a newspaper story today it had learned from a "reliable" source that the strike will be settled early next week either by the Dominion government taking over the tram systems in the three cities or by the union's international executive ordering the men to return to their jobs.

OFFICIAL SILENCE

A. L. Spradling of Cincinnati, acting president of the International Amalgamated Association of Street Car Employees (AFL), said in a telephone interview last night that he did not wish to discuss the matter further with Vancouver newspapers until he gets a representative in Vancouver to report on the situation.

Mr. Spradling had been quoted in previous telephone interviews as saying the strike called by the Street Railwaymen's union (AFL) had not been authorized by international headquarters and that he was sending a representative to investigate the situation.

SETTLEMENT HOPES REST WITH AFL

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—(CP)—Hope of an early settlement of the five-day strike of west coast street car and bus operators was pinned today on intervention by international officials of the Street Railwaymen's Union (AFL).

Labor Minister Mitchell's office today arranged air priority for O. A. Rowen, international union officer, to fly from Los Angeles, Cal., to Vancouver. He is expected to reach Vancouver today.

Opinion in Ottawa was that failing a settlement over the week-end the government would probably act next week by taking over the British Columbia electric railway's transportation system and ordering the men back to work, as was done in the Montreal tramway strike last fall.

King Appeals For Election Defence Chief

minister the country's affairs for the next five years.

"That should be quite soon enough for a party political campaign," said Mr. King. "Meanwhile, our energies and attention should not be diverted from the war and its demands."

The government has called the Grey North by-election so that Gen. McNaughton might have a seat in the Commons should another session be held before dissolution and a general election.

The present session, now adjourned, would be prorogued Jan. 31. A new session could not begin before Feb. 1 and could not extend beyond April 17.

"The maximum length of a new session could not exceed 2½ months," said Mr. King. "It is altogether unlikely that its proceedings would last that long. In any event, the dissolution of parliament must come before April 17."

IN PUBLIC INTEREST

In calling the by-election, the government had "naturally assumed that a course of procedure so obviously in the public interest would be welcomed by members of all political parties."

"In making Grey North an exception to the decision not to hold further by-elections prior to the general election, we did not believe we were running any risk of occasioning political controversy," he said. "We felt that the whole country was anxious to avoid diverting public attention from the supreme task of winning the war, particularly at a time when the situation in Europe had become grave indeed."

"We had every reason to expect that, until the time came for the people to speak in a general election, party politics would be put aside and attention concentrated on the persecution of the war."

Gen. McNaughton is opposed in the constituency by Garfield Case, a Progressive Conservative candidate, and by Air Vice Marshal A. E. Godfrey, retired RCAF air officer, a CCF candidate.

SUPPORT FOR FORCES

"As citizens of Grey North, by ensuring Gen. McNaughton, with our delay, a seat in the House of Commons, you will be giving to Canada's minister of national defence the fullest opportunity to devote all his time and energies effectively to the support of Canada's armed forces," said Mr. King. "You will be strengthening Canada's war effort at a critical and, it may be, a decisive period in the war. Any other course can have only the opposite effect."

"I appeal, therefore, to you, irrespective of party affiliations, to put partisan considerations aside for the time being. I appeal to you, without distinction of party, to demonstrate to the whole of Canada, your readiness to aid in maintaining a vigorous war effort."

If another session of parliament was held, it was essential that Gen. McNaughton be in the Commons to pilot through the war measures of his department.

The general had not had a seat in the Commons since he succeeded Col. J. L. Ralston as defence minister during the conscription crisis last November. He had, however, been allowed on the floor of the House during the session that developed out of the crisis and was allowed to explain the policies of the government regarding the army.

SEAT NEXT OBJECTIVE

When the session ended with a vote of confidence in the government, and it was apparent there was no need for an immediate general election, the government sought at once to arrange for Gen. McNaughton's election as a member for the remainder of the life of the present parliament, said Mr. King.

The main reason for wishing to have another session of the present parliament, however brief, was the desirability, if possible, of having the general election delayed until the war in Europe was over.

So long as the war lasted, it was desirable the attention of the country, and of every community, should be focused on the needs of our fighting forces overseas and upon the winning of the war.

TIME IS LIMITED

The time available for another session was necessarily limited. Given a readiness on the part of the different political parties to cooperate, the time available would

Machine-Gun Sharks In Rescuing Sailors

ULITHI LAGOON, Caroline Islands, (Delayed)—(AP)—Survivors of three United States destroyers lost in a western Pacific typhoon, told how rescue craft had to machine-gun sharks to reach them. be ample for the enactment of necessary war measures.

"Obviously, however, the presence of the minister of national defence in the House of Commons would be essential to the presentation and explanation of these measures."

REINFORCEMENT PLAN SAID, CARRIED OUT

CLARKSBURG, Ont., Jan. 13.—(CP)—The defence department's plan to send 5,000 reinforcements overseas in December and the same number in January has been carried out, Defence Minister A. G. L. McNaughton said here last night in his opening speech of the Grey North by-election campaign.

He was not free to give specific figures on the reinforcements, the defence minister said, but a full report would be made when security considerations permitted.

SHORTAGE AVERTED

Unless something had been done toward reinforcing the Canadian Army overseas a serious shortage of men might have developed in January or early February, the Liberal candidate said.

He had been well aware of the situation on the western front through information reaching him from overseas men in special services, and when called to become defence minister "I found I must put aside other plans and take the position the Prime Minister offered me."

CCF CANDIDATE OPPOSES POLICIES

MEAFORD, Ont., Jan. 13.—(CP)—Air Vice-Marshal A. E. Godfrey, CCF candidate in the Grey North federal by-election Feb. 5, speaking at a political meeting here last night said he was "absolutely opposed" to policies followed by Prime Minister Mackenzie King's government.

"I do not believe that either the Liberal or Progressive Conservative brand of conscription is good enough," he said. "Neither can be called conscription. Half-way measures will not provide either adequate manpower or adequate material supplies; and nothing short of the very best that all Canada can provide will be good enough."

IMPORTANT ISSUES

The most important issues to come before parliament next month are measures to be taken to enable Canada to make her contribution to Allied victory, the retired air officer said.

"What measures are to be taken to provide for the men and women who come back from the war? What measures are to be taken to avoid another depression? What measures are to be taken to enable Canada to play her part in the international field?"

CCF PHILOSOPHIES SAID LIKE HITLER'S

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Jan. 13.—(CP)—Speaking last night in support of the candidature of W. Garfield Case, Progressive-Conservative in the Grey North by-elections Feb. 5, Earl Rowe, Progressive-Conservative member of parliament for Dufferin-Simcoe said CCF philosophies reminded him of Hitlerite Germany.

Mr. Rowe, referring to retired Air Vice-Marshal Earl Godfrey the CCF candidate, said that the CCF's centralization, regimentation and totalitarianism now offered in disguise by Mr. Godfrey's party in many strange announcements seems to be its chief purpose, but now reinforcements shall be sent only if you accept this new economic philosophy," he said.

OLD DOCTRINES

"This is not new. It is old. These doctrines have made slaves of half the world. These are the philosophies we are fighting. Happiness cannot be subscribed by government."

"It is not long since Hitler became secretary of the German Workers' party. They said they would take over the large corporations, the trust companies, department and chain stores. They promised all things to all people. It soon meant the end of trade unions and swiftly ended elections."

Prime Minister Will Not Extend Term of House

low but not necessarily immediately.

Mr. King said that in 1917 parliament was dissolved on Oct. 6 and the election took place on Dec. 17. If he allowed the same delay as a maximum now the election might not take place until about the end of June.

"If another session of the present parliament is to be held it is essential that the minister of national defence be in the House of Commons," said Mr. King.

NO SESSION POSSIBLE

Political circles in the capital, analysing Mr. King's statement, said that if this sentence was phrased another way it could mean that if Gen. McNaughton cannot be in the Commons "another session would not be held."

Mr. King said the main reason for having another session was to avoid, if possible, a general election before the end of the war in Europe. Elections, he said, distracted attention from the vital tasks of prosecuting the war. On the basis of his other statements he appeared prepared, if another session can be held, to hold off the election until late June at least on the chance of having the European war end first.

In the period between Feb. 1 and April 17 available for a session Mr. King said if political parties cooperated the necessary war measures could be enacted.

Gen. McNaughton's presence, however, "would be essential to the presentation and explanation of these measures."

Three Allied Armies Fight Into Salient

Third Army was rapidly closing up to the Champan-Bastogne highway and mopped up a number of small towns east of St. Hubert, including Amberloy.

On the northern flank the 83rd Infantry Division moved up 2,000 yards south of Langir and were less than two miles from the Houffalize-St. Vith highway.

In the Alsace corner of the northeastern France, the Germans threw a heavy armored attack into the American Seventh Army's Maginot line defenses on the edge of the Haguenau forest and were thrown back with heavy losses. Hard fighting was continuing there early today, however, and long-range German guns across the Rhine opened a drumfire barrage on the American lines.

The battle of the Ardennes was developing into a race by the converging American and British forces to overrun the entire salient before the Germans could dig in on a semi-permanent line along the wooded ridges extending north-eastward from Houffalize to St. Vith.

FAST WITHDRAWAL

Field dispatches said the Germans were back-peddaling at top speed from the eastern end of the pocket and fighting savagely farther east against American armored divisions battering into their flanks from the north and south.

Everywhere the Germans were fighting a skillful rear guard action that seemed likely to nullify the Allies' efforts to envelop the bulk of the enemy armor. The Americans and British apparently were concentrating on driving the Nazis back into the Reich to clear the way for a resumption of their eastbound offensive.

The biggest gains around the shrinking German pocket today were registered at the western end where the British Second Army linked up its front with Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's forces and chopped off practically all of the enemy lines west of the Ourthe river.

FORCE MINIFIELDS

British outriders were cutting swiftly through Nazi minifields and scattered rear guards on a 13-mile front looping northeast from St. Hubert to the Ourthe line at Ortho, four miles southeast of La Roche.

Dozens of Belgian towns were overrun with little or no opposition in the British advance, and a few reports they were pushing into Champan, Erneville, Beaulieu and Ortho on an arc five miles southwest to four miles southeast of La Roche.

Patton's troops on the southwest corner of the salient also were making rapid progress, hammering out gains, running up to 1-1½ miles northwest of Bastogne in the Flam large and Renaumont sectors. The Germans were reported withdrawing hurriedly but in good order along that end of the line and pulling out more slowly on a five mile front east and southeast of Bastogne.

REPORT NEW ATTACK

Unconfirmed German reports said the Third Army had launched a new and heavy attack farther east in the Wiltz area of Luxembourg, pushing some wedges up into the centre of the salient.

On the northern flank, U.S. First Army troops met stiffening German opposition to their two main thrusts south of Samree, three miles east of La Roche, and east of the Liege-Houffalize-Bastogne highway.

Only slight gains were recorded below Samree, while the second spearhead pushed down some two miles below Bihain and at last reports was approaching Mont-Le Ban, four miles northeast of Houffalize against fierce resistance.

Discharged Men Made Subject of Military Call

sequent Japanese phase," the minister's statement said.

GROUND CREW LIABLE

"All these personnel have received a personal letter clearly outlining their status and machinery has been set up to ensure that they will be readily available for immediate recall when required. However, ground crew personnel, including officers, will be liable to call-up."

"If the medical category of any discharged man now made liable to call-up is below the point at which the army will accept his services he will be liable to direction by national selective service to essential employment in civilian industry. Similarly, any discharged man not callable by reason of not being of an age or marital class subject to mobilization regulations may be directed to essential work."

(Present call-up regulations apply to single men born in the years 1906 to 1926 and married men born in the year 1913 to 1926, but men who have reached their 38th birthday are not being accepted by the army under the call-up plan.)

NOT RETROACTIVE

The new regulations will apply to men discharged Jan. 15 or after and will not have any retroactive effect for those already discharged.

"The new ruling has been made with two main objectives in mind," Mr. Mitchell said. "One is to avoid a situation where men with service in Canada only for three years or longer would be excused from further military duty, while at the same time it would be impossible to release men who are serving in a field of actual operations who may be required to continue in service for a much longer period."

"The other objective is to secure the additional men needed for the army, and by essential industry."

The RCAF has recently been undergoing a curtailment and partial demobilization program and it has been announced that the big Commonwealth Training Plan will not be extended beyond March 31 when it is assumed the last aircrew graduate will have won his wings.

The plan will be succeeded by a skeleton training program designed merely to keep the training wheels oiled and take care of normal replacements.

As the plan rolls up the thousands of ground-crewmembers and administrative staffs will be discharged and it will be from this pool that the army will draw recruits under today's plan.

Aircrew instructors, like aircrew graduates and aircrew discharges, become members of the air force reserve and are not callable.

French, Alsatian Morale Protected Political Pressure Won Over Army Dictates In Decision by Allies to Hold Strasbourg

By J. EDWARD MURRAY

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Paris, Jan. 13.—(BUP)— British, American and French political pressure won out over military dictates when the Germans launched a strong offensive in Alsace on New Year's eve, and it was decided to hold Strasbourg and adjacent territory rather than make a withdrawal, thus protecting French and Alsatian morale, it was disclosed yesterday.

The military and political situation was so tremendous that Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who is said to have represented President Roosevelt and Gen. Charles de Gaulle as well as the British war cabinet, dramatically arrived at the headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Jan. 3 to discuss the crisis. Churchill was accompanied by Field Marshal Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the Imperial general staff.

It was believed Gen. Pierre Juin, French chief of staff, sat in on the conferences and presented the French viewpoint—a reluctance to give up French territory because of the effect such a move would have on the morale of liberated Alsacians, the French public and the French army.

VICTORY FOR MORALE

The Nazi's diversionary offensive in Alsace was aimed at what would have been a great victory for German morale—the retaking of territory which they considered an integral part of the Reich. This included the biggest Alsatian city of Strasbourg, still threatened by the Germans.

The Karlsruhe triangle, scene of the German little offensive, is a precarious area to hold because there are only two communication lines—the Saargemündes-Haguenau line and the line through Saverne itself.

Military commanders might have preferred to write off this position in the interest of stabilizing the southern front along the Vosges in face of the offensive strength the enemy had massed for his threat to Alsace. Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch and his 7th army already was rapidly falling back to a new line south of Bitche and south of Wissembourg.

But on the political level, the blow to reviving international French prestige was involved in the loss of Strasbourg as well as the morale of France which forms most of the American rear supply area, then this factor had to be considered. This political phase of the decision was but one of those which also affects the military due to the importance of morale of the French in the rear of American armies.

BAD EFFECT ON TROOPS

Furthermore, a retreat from recently liberated Alsace would have had a very bad effect on the morale of the Allied fighting men who had just completed the liberation.

The Churchill-Juin-Eisenhower conferences continued for two days until Jan. 5 when Eisenhower conferred with De Gaulle.

What actually happened at the conferences was not made public, but after the Churchill visit it became clear that American and French armies were going to try to hold Strasbourg. It seems most likely that Churchill emphasized the political aspects and agreement was reached with Eisenhower and Juin that Strasbourg could be held.

This meant the decision in the final analysis was a United Nations one involving the British, American and French.

After the conference, the American withdrawal out of the Wissembourg gap stopped ten miles short of Haguenau from the northeast and General Patch began expert counter pressure against the Germans Blücher bulge.

It established a Rhine bridgehead north of Strasbourg. Patch was able to contain it. Now the threat to Strasbourg from the Colmar pocket is also being counteracted. French troops hold Alsace from Strasbourg southward, including protection of the great city itself.

Post of Acting Air Minister Given Gibson

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—(CP)— Appointment of Revenue Minister Gibson as acting air minister was announced yesterday and in parliamentary circles the move was considered the first of a series of steps which will involve a limited cabinet re-organization within the next few months.

Col. Gibson takes over a post that Navy Minister Macdonald has held since Hon. C. G. Power resigned last November because of the government's decision to send 16,000 home defence troops overseas.

ABSENT FROM DUTIES

Mr. Macdonald is to be absent from his duties for a few weeks and Col. Gibson will handle the air portfolio in addition to his regular post as revenue minister. Some parliamentary sources expressed belief Col. Gibson would hold the air portfolio only temporarily, but other well-informed sources said he might be given the post permanently.

The name of Douglas Abbott, member for St. Antoine-Westmount, was mentioned as a possible new revenue minister should Col. Gibson take the air portfolio. As parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsey, Mr. Abbott has demonstrated his ability to handle taxation and financial matters before the House of Commons.

As there are some 15 vacancies in the Senate, it is possible that any of the cabinet ministers who may retire by chance or to make way for younger men, before the next election will be appointed there. Resources Minister Crerar has announced his intention of retiring.

MANITOBA MEMBER

W. G. Weir, member for Macdonald constituency in Manitoba, is considered a possible successor to Mr. Crerar as the representative of Manitoba in the cabinet, and the portfolio to which he might be assigned would probably depend on the extent of the shuffle of portfolios.

Mr. Weir is one of the best informed men in the House on agricultural matters and should the shuffle move Agricultural Minister Gardiner to another portfolio he might be given that post.

SPANIEL, DOCTOR BATTLE TO DRAW IN GEM QUEST

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 13.—

(AP)—Sparkle, a cocker spaniel, and veterinarian Nelson R. Limer battled to a draw yesterday in a struggle to disgorge gems worth $1,000 from the dog's stomach.

The spaniel, pet of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Brown, swallowed Mrs. Brown's engagement and wedding rings.

After more than 24 hours of treatment, the dog surrendered the wedding ring, which includes a cluster of 10 diamonds. The engagement solitaire still is in his. Limer confidently predicts ultimate recovery of both the solitaire and sparkle.

New Price Formula Fixed For Oranges

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—(CP)—The prices board announced last night previous pricing orders for oranges have been cancelled and that beginning Monday all oranges sold in Canada will come under a new pricing formula announced last month.

That means that prices for oranges will be based on the ceiling set by the office of price administration in the growing area in the United States, plus a controlled mark-up set by the board.

A Letter from Home!

Regulations forbid individuals sending newspapers overseas. The Edmonton Bulletin prints the news of the week in letter form. Clip it out and send it to your loved ones and friends.

Dear

After a two-week cold spell the weather changed about the middle of this week and milder weather has prevailed, a welcome change, although taken as a whole the winter has not been severe.

Around the city as a whole, activity is picking up considerably after the Christmas-New Year's holiday season. The annual convention of the Alberta Fish and Game Association was held early this week, while the annual meeting of the Alberta and North West Chamber of Mines and Natural Resources was held on Thursday. In the office are the annual conventions of the United Farmers of Alberta and the Alberta Farmers' Union. Then, on Feb. 22, the first session of Alberta's 10th Legislature will open.

These are but a few of the things occupying attention on the home front. But in spite of everything going on here, our main thought is directed toward you gallant boys overseas and the magnificent achievements you are placing to your credit every day.

Here are some details on news highlights.

THE POST-WAR RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE GOVERNMENT OF ALBERTA
Hon. A. J. Hooke, Chairman

To Build A Post-War "Work Pile"

It is recognized that the key to post-war Rehabilitation is employment for all. To build a Post-War "WORK PILE"—a reservoir of jobs for our returning Service men and women is therefore an objective which challenges the constructive thought and sincere effort of every citizen. For the purpose of organizing and co-ordinating this effort in all parts of Alberta, a Survey Management Committee has been set up as a FACT FINDING BODY. A complete and comprehensive survey is to be made under three headings: (1) A FARM SURVEY; (2) A HOUSEHOLDERS' SURVEY; (3) A SURVEY OF RETAILERS, WHOLESALESALESMEN, AND SERVICE ESTABLISHMENTS.

THE FACT-FINDING SURVEY STARTS MONDAY, JANUARY 15TH

In carrying out this survey, Alberta is taking a forward step greater than any yet made in this or any other province. Its success depends on your co-operation, and that of all citizens, business and industry in the Province. From the 25 Regional Survey Committees established throughout Alberta, volunteer FACT-FINDERS on Monday will start their work of seeking out the location of jobs and job-making possibilities for the post-war "WORK PILE".

THIS IS EVERYONE'S JOB

When the FACT-FINDER calls on you with the survey questionnaire, be ready and willing to give him your whole-hearted support. Study the questionnaire as it applies to your home, your store or business. Give the most complete and accurate information possible. Only by working together in the spirit of friendly and frank co-operation will the survey provide that solid foundation of facts so essential in formulating an adequate Post War Reconstruction Plan.

At its January meeting the Edmonton Separate School Board heard a report that the portable school constructed in November and December in connection with the Fairview school had been completed and was ready for occupation when schools re-opened Jan. 3.

The question of Sunday shooting, banned by the Provincial government, but desired by many sportsmen, will be the subject of a survey by the game branch of the Alberta lands and mines department, as a result of a resolution passed by the annual meeting of the Alberta Fish and Game Association. Sponsors of the resolution favoring Sunday shooting alleged that the province has no jurisdiction in banning Sunday shooting, as Dominion legislation takes precedence over that of the province.

Robert Gardiner, president of the United Farmers of Alberta for 14 years, and member of parliament for the Acadia constituency from 1921 to 1935, stated that he would not seek re-election as president of the UFA at the annual convention of the organization to be held here commencing Jan. 23. He said that membership in the UFA had increased from 9,000 to 15,000 in 1944, and felt it would have been greater if placing of organizers throughout the province had been possible.

Olaf Arnold Hougan, well-known city sportsman, died in a city hospital. He was 57 years old. Employed by the city telephone department stores section, he had taken a prominent role in skiing and game hunting.

The rate at which Canadian servicemen are marrying British girls is posing a difficult transportation question for government authorities. Most of the men are anxious to get their wives and families to Canada, and to establish them in their new homes before the war ends. Yet, finding transportation for them across the Atlantic is a major problem.

Two sergeants sleeping in a prefabricated hut at the USAAF air base here escaped without injury when the building was destroyed by fire. The men were Sgt. Thomas Matoya, Northwest Service Command, Whitehorse, and Roy G. Hendricks, Alaskan Department.

Discharged as a patient by Royal Alexandra hospital authorities, Alex. Skarliski, 10157 100A street, was arrested by city police and charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Walter Bellman, as a result of an automobile crashing into a pole on Jasper avenue. There were five persons in the crash, including Skarliski.

More than 300 persons attended the annual Navy Fathers' Club smoker at HMCS Nonsuch, the Edmonton naval establishment. The meeting was convened by R. E. Browne, chairman of the club. Several seamen home on leave attended.

Award of the Army messing and catering shield in MD 13 to No. 13 Vocational Training School here, for the month of December, was announced by Army authorities.

More than 150 persons attended a meeting of the University of Alberta Philosophical Society when Prof. R. M. Hardy of the civil engineering department, spoke on "Engineering and Society." Dr. Walter H. Johns, president of the society, introduced the speaker.

The rehabilitation committee of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce has accepted responsibility for the post-war reconstruction committee's farm, household and business survey in Edmonton district, according to J. H. McKenzie, chairman of the committee in charge. Survey work will start about Jan. 15.

Moving into the lead early in the first period, and withstanding a closing drive in the final minutes, Edmonton Athletic Club pucksters finished in front of Maple Leafs 5-5 in a Junior Hockey League fixture at the Arena. In turning in their third straight win over Maple Leafs, the EAC pucksters gave their top display of the season, and the fans saw the best exhibition in the junior schedule to date.

A total of 16 ranks likely will start in the Veterans' Curling Association annual bonspiel on Tuesday at the Granite Curling Club. Officials are expecting a successful event, featured by close games.

January 12

Two new classes of Edmontonians are being hit by the serious lack of housing here: veterans of the present war returning in an ever-increasing stream and British brides of Canadian service men. It has been shown that more than 600 applications for accommodation in the 105 units being made available for civilian housing at the former U.S. camp at Calder.

Directors of the United Farmers of Alberta are in session here discussing the annual convention to be held here next week. The delegates will be kept busy with a heavy agenda of varied business.

One of the main items of business will be discussion of a resolution as to whether the UFA and the Alberta Farmers Union should amalgamate.

January 13

Planned development of several residential areas is being studied by city commissioners and the city engineer, according to Commissioner John Hodgson. He said plans have been made for installation of trunk and lateral sewers in the Windsor Park area immediately west of the University of Alberta. This development is to ease the congestion of building in the city, as most city-owned lots in sections of the city already developed, have been taken up.

That's all for now.
Best of everything until next week.

From Camp to College

The University of Alberta, as other institutions of the kind across Canada, is to allow returned servicemen to enter upon courses at other times than the regular enrollment period. This is a necessary concession, because otherwise men who are discharged from the fighting forces after the university year has opened would have to wait months before they could gain admittance.

As a further measure of assistance, the university in co-operation with the department of education is providing refresher courses where intending students may complete qualifications for university entrance. From these courses the ex-servicemen will be able to proceed to 'Varsity without delay.

These special arrangements will of course meet with the hearty approval of the public. They are particularly important because settling down to a course of study after the excitement of life in the fighting forces cannot be easy at best, and must be made more difficult by any prolonged delay.

It is highly creditable to themselves and promising to the country that after years spent in the distractions of military activities, a large proportion of young Canadians are emerging with the ambition to complete, or to commence, a university course. Anything that can be done to encourage and assist them has been well-earned, and is in every way desirable.

A Job of Conservation

Useful and unique, the international organization known as "Ducks Unlimited" will complete its seventh year of operations at the end of March, 1945.

Financed by United States hunters, who realize that most of North America's ducks hatch around western Canada waters, and serviced by Canadians, Ducks Unlimited was organized originally to prevent the destruction of ducks at their source.

It has grown now into something of even larger import—a campaign which develops Canadian waters and increases the production not only of ducks, but of fur, fish and livestock.

The conservation work already done by this cooperative enterprise represents an investment of $858,000 in cash by American hunters plus land, water and cooperation by Canadians valued at $8,500,000. It is an actual total of more than $9,000,000.

The American interest centers around the fact that control and development of breeding waters prevents the destruction of game waterfowl, 73 per cent of which would ordinarily be lost before hunting started.

The Canadian interest centers around the additional fact that this control and development of waters materially increases the value of many other of our natural resources.

Up to the present time, Ducks Unlimited has launched 140 wildlife conservation projects in Western Canada, safeguarded more than 1,200,000 duck-nesting acres from the threat of drought, created new permanent breeding waters, and established miles of fireguards and many fire-fighting crews.

In many instances, water for livestock has been guaranteed so that ranchers can once again use range land which drought had rendered useless. One Ducks Unlimited project near Hanna has created a new lake seven miles long which provides water on range land to which 22 ranchers have returned.

Hay crops have been improved on managed marshes. Fur crops have been created for local communities. Predatory birds have been eliminated and the breeding of useful gulls has been encouraged.

Ducks Unlimited has not only promoted actual conservation measures but has made thousands of Americans and Canadians conservation-conscious.

It has increased North America's waterfowl population by more than 500 percent.

It has shown that a full development of western waters, wildlife and related resources offers an opportunity to thousands of young Canadians after the war.

And finally, but not of least importance, is the fact that the operations of Ducks Unlimited have promoted understanding and good will between people all over North America. For instance, the motion pictures shown by Ducks Unlimited inform millions of Americans about Canada.

This is a useful and interesting enterprise and should have the support of this community.

Better Act Together

The Greeks may or may not be about to close their ranks and get at the job of rebuilding their devastated country. It is at least something that they are to stop fighting and ELAS leaders go into conference with the Government.

ELAS and British forces are to release all prisoners of war, and the former are to free British civilians kidnapped or taken into custody by them. That appears to wind up General Scobie's job as intervener on behalf of order and the distribution of relief to the hungry populace. Unless, of course, the conferees decide to continue the civil war.

Hopes that this marks the end of the chaotic situation can hardly be stronger at Athens than at London. Britain has paid the usual penalty of the neighbor who intervenes in a "private fight." It has been misunderstood by its friends and misrepresented by its enemies as seeking to save the Greek monarchy, to play power politics, to get a ground-floor position in Greek trade, or to make the peninsula a sphere of political influence.

There are several other small states in Europe where liberation has produced or seems likely to produce internal conflict resembling that in Greece. In such areas it is almost inevitable that the big Allied powers will have to do police duty until the turmoil subsides. Where that is necessary it is to be hoped they will act together, and not leave the job to one.

If the United States and Russia had gone to Greece along with Britain, the trouble would have been over long ago.

Since three days before Christmas great fleets of Allied bombers have gone over every day and every night to blast communication lines and supply depots behind the Nazi lines and industrial centres all across Germany. If only ten per cent of the thousands of bombs dropped in twenty-four hours find targets of military importance, the cumulative effect of this continuous assault cannot be talked away by any language Herr Goebbels may see fit to use. No country ever before got such an aerial drubbing, nor one in any fair degree resembling it.

It is disclosed that a ground fog over the Ardennes region gave von Rundstedt the opportunity to get his panzer divisions going full steam ahead without the Allies knowing the attack was coming at the particular time and place. But after the offensive had carried many miles deep into Belgium, clearing skies enabled Allied air forces to locate and demolish its supply transport units and communication lines.
Once again came a change, and blinding blizzards provided a "smoke screen" behind which the enemy tanks and trucks were able to back track toward their defences. First to last General Weather seems to have played a strong role in the Battle of the Bulge, not always on the same side, but always at critical stages.

Looking Backward

1895: 50 Years Ago

The mayoralty contest is getting hot. As an evidence of the fact a story was started yesterday by opponents of Mr. J. A. McDougall that under the new municipal ordinance that gentleman was disqualified from holding the mayoralty, owing to his being a shareholder in the Electric Light Company, which has a contract with the town to furnish street lighting. As most of the public-spirited citizens of the town had taken shares in the Electric Light Company with a view to improving the town, it was found that of the candidates for councillors Messrs.
C. F. Strang, A. D. Osborne and John Kelly were in the same position as Mr. McDougall, being shareholders in the company. In order to remove any possible doubt as to his qualification, Mr. McDougall has disposed of his interest in the Electric Light Company, so that his election will not depend upon one or the other reading of a particular sentence in an ordinance, but upon the choice of the electors.

Present Disputes Among Allies Only Passing Phase

Intelligent People Will Discount Bickering as Hysteria

By HAROLD L. WEIR

Columnists and radio commentators have been telling us, with some agitation, that the differences between the British, American and Russian allies have reached serious proportions. They have been saying that these internal disputes threaten the efficient operation of the war effort and that the nations which should be standing most closely together are now drifting more widely apart.

It is probably true that the present disputes and bickerings, which seem to be carried on more vigorously in the press than through official channels, may interfere with military efficiency.

It is not true that they indicate a drifting apart. There is nothing whosoever to make any intelligent person suspect that the aims and aspirations of the common men in all three principle Allied nations have changed in the slightest extent since the most idealistic days of the Atlantic Charter.

British, Americans and presumably Russians—that is, the average men among them—have only one deep hope. And that is for an opportunity to live peacefully and profitably with their neighbors.

So long as that common hope persists, there is no need to worry too much about the present misunderstandings.

No Change

There is a disposition to criticize both Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt for their apparent abandonment of the terms of the Atlantic Charter.

The word "apparent" should be emphasized. For the abandonment is only actual insofar as every excellent rule must have its exceptions. And Mr. Churchill and Mr.
Roosevelt, being realists, as they need to be, have arrived at a point in their contact with European politics where the principle of the Atlantic Charter cannot be fully applied.

Surely this implies no real "abandonment" of those principles.
The intrinsic soundness of the Ten Commandments is not shaken merely because quite a few people find themselves unable to live up to them all the time.

There is no real change then in the fundamental objectives of either Britain or the United States. We have no reason for assuming that the ultimate purposes of the Soviet Union are any less benign.

Troublemakers

I have said that the differences of opinion between the United States and Britain are being aired more fully in the press than they are presumably through official channels.

They are being aired, indeed, to the point where some of the commentators may almost be described as troublemakers.

Some of the American columnists, for instance, have gone out of their way to parade in print what they describe as the greed of Britain and the high-handedness of Mr.
Churchill.

On the other hand, there is the recent outburst of the London Daily Mail which accuses General Omar
Bradley of a "slur" upon Field Marshal Montgomery in his comments upon the status of the various commands.

These matters are so exceedingly superficial, compared to the stern necessities of war, that it is a wonder thinking people even begin to take them seriously.

Remembering Montgomery's most generous appeal, the other day, for loyalty to General Eisenhower, who could imagine him, for instance, taking offence over some playmate slight in the face of the larger issues?

I cannot believe that the activities of such troublemakers are even malicious. I do not believe there is much deliberate intent to stir up bad feelings. These people, like the rest of us, are victims of nervous hysteria. They, like ourselves, are quarrelsome because of war weariness.

War Weariness

And there, of course, is the heart of the whole irritating phase—war weariness.

Nearly every family in Canada, and certainly every family in Britain, has been subjected to more than 64 months of keenest anxiety.

The Americans have had more than 37 months of it.

Now there is a nervous stress and strain that the human system cannot well endure. After just so much of it, tempers become brittle, suspicious arise darkly and viewpoints are distorted.

And I suppose even the most substantial journalists are subject to these affections.

It is out of these abnormalities that the bickerings arise.

But surely there is no cause here for permanent worry, no reason for distress, no cause for ultimate pessimism.

The people of Britain and the people of Canada and the people of the United States are still sound and generous and neighborly, no matter what they may do or say in their moments of war hysteria, and we may have the utmost confidence in their substance of mind and heart.

There is no more reason for doubting their good faith and their good friendship than there is for taking too seriously the grumbling of a paterfamilias with a temporary attack of indigestion.

That is the point to be remembered—that we are disputing and bickering because we are war weary, because we are tired, because we are anxious.

This is only a passing phase. Wise people will so regard it.

A Commoner

Editor, Bulletin: The statement in a recent letter that Governor-General of Canada are chosen only from the House of Lords is incorrect.

John Buchan was a commoner when named Governor-General in 1935—and he was, I believe, a member of the House of Commons at the time. It was only after the appointment was made that he was raised to the peerage as Lord Tweedsmuir.

News Commentators

Editor, Bulletin: Freedom of speech is a wonderful privilege, but after listening to Drew Pearson from Washington one wonders why this blessing should be extended to the air-waves.

In an effort to find a scapegoat for the tragic blunder which preceded the German breakthrough in Belgium Pearson accused Field Marshal Montgomery of being the chief cause because the latter did not commence an offensive in Holland.

In addition to this he hinted that Montgomery withheld this effort in order to secure promotion as general field commander on the western front.

He conveniently by-passes Mont-gomery's brilliant achievements as an offensive commander in North Africa, Italy and northern France, by stating bluntly that Montgomery is a purely defensive general and is therefore totally unsuited for over-all command.

In fairness we must recognize the mighty contribution the American armed forces have made in the present conflict, without which we could not have gained the now visible victory, but the cost to our great neighbor in young lives is too great a price to pay in order to retain her present amateur commanders in France.

Oil in Egypt

Editor, Bulletin: The mysterious Sphinx of Egypt must have set free her silence. At last her secret is out! For centuries she has guarded something enormously precious to us now.

Very soon oil riggers, assured of successful gushes, contemplate opening up a new field, close to the ancient Pyramids at Giza, near Cairo, and near enough to the Sphinx to make her wish that she had kept her secret for hundreds of years more.

Landlords

Editor, Bulletin: Regarding letters that appear from time to time abusing landlords and landladies—there still exist some fair and considerate ones.

Do tenants stop and realize the following:
That costs of repairs to houses have just about doubled and unless a landlord is able to do repairs himself he pays out a small fortune for labor.

That fuel prices have risen considerably.

That there is a tax on light, etc.
All this has to be endured where the rents have in many cases been frozen as from the beginning of the war.

There is no protection for the decent landlord or landlady under present Rental Control Board regulations. A tenant may be extravagant, unreasonable, or obnoxious, but notice what the judge invariably says in such cases: "Go home and try to get along."

Meaning that the tenants win out almost every time and the landlord, who often has a real complaint, gets no consideration whatever.

Pensioners' Clothing

Editor, Bulletin: Most of the old-age pensioners can manage to live and pay rent on the thirty dollars a month, but we can not possibly stretch that thirty dollars to pay for necessary clothing.

We can, perhaps, by denying ourselves, save one or two dollars each month, but to buy clothing, taking advantage of occasional sales, one must pay cash.

Would it not be possible for the city to advance, or guarantee to the storekeeper some such sum as $20 or $30; the same to be deducted from our monthly cheques, but stretching out the repayment so far as possible?

We don't want charity, just a little help now and then.

ONCE WELL-TO-DO.

Be Tolerant

Editor Bulletin: We have heard a good deal from arm-chair strategists, and lately have been informed, by men who ought to know better, that the war is practically over.
Now we seem to have a crop of arm-chair politicians, some of whom are reasonable and moved by honest motives.

I would like, however, to remind such that the final solution of the political and economic problems of Europe, is a very complex matter, full of pitfalls and it will not, I think, be solved without mistakes.
To err is human.

To loyal Britishers, I would say:
"Have your opinions, by all means,
but beware of adding to the burden of those who have borne the heat and burden of the day" (which we have not), "or of putting on one man's shoulders responsibilities which do not belong there."

Let us heed, both individually and nationally, the great lesson contained in the words: "Why look at the splinter in your brother's eye, and not notice the beam of timber which is in your own eye?"

To Water Drinkers

Editor Bulletin: To assert that liquor undermines the morale of a population is palpable rubbish. Witness England, where beer is the national drink. Did the English quail before Hitler's hordes? They stood up like men to fears and hazards far beyond the warped and simple imaginings of these lappers of water. Witness, too, the Russians.
Where would they be now if it had not been for their vodka?

I suggest that our fresh water addicts examine the moles in their own eyes with the same rank persistence with which they affront us with their unreasoning, intemperate, pseudo-evangelistic oral ooz-ings.

Fur Business

Editor, Bulletin: The fur business of the province is being strangled to death by regulations and imposts adopted by the provincial government's department administering this important phase of the province's natural wealth.

Here is one sample of the administration which should be soundly condemned. A bounty was paid on wolves killed by trappers, farmers and sportsmen, but the government in its wisdom changed the bounty to a point where it did not pay those interested in the killing of

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

EVENTS moved fast this week in connection with the Women's Musical Club Celebrity Series of concerts, with the result that the circumstances attending the next regular concert have altered beyond recognition. In the process of evolution Mrs. Ernest Meaden, manager of the series, experienced many trying moments and not a few heartaches before the situation, after rapid deterioration, had been restored. She would not have been so surprised and thrown off balance had she received a certain air mail letter from Fred M. Gee, Winnipeg concert impresario, on expected scheduled time. But she did not receive it until about 48 hours after Mr. Gee expected it to arrive. Thus Mrs. Meaden suffered unduly when receipt of the document might have avoided a lot of mental anguish.

JOHN OLIVER

Here are some of the events and surrounding circumstances. The next regular concert in the Celebrity Series was that scheduled to be given by Nathan Milstein, violinist, on Wednesday, Jan. 24. Milstein, it is known now, will not appear. He has contracted a serious glandular condition, which has been aggravated by severe weather. As a result, his physician has ordered a complete cessation of public appearances for the rest of the current season. It has been revealed that he finished his performance of the Max Bruch Concerto No. 1 in G Minor a week ago last Sunday with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, only by calling on his physical resources and great courage, as he was undergoing considerable suffering at the time.

Due to his enforced idleness, Milstein has handed over all his other engagements for the current season to Ricardo Odnoposoff, Russian violinist, who entered the American concert field only recently and scored a great success at his New York debut last spring. It will be remembered that he was one of the artists mentioned by Mr. Gee during his visit here with Alexander Uninsky, as being a possibility for next year's Celebrity Series.

As Odnoposoff is pinch-hitting for Milstein for the rest of the season, he will substitute for him here. Now, here is the next important point. It was originally scheduled to take place on Wednesday, Jan. 24. Under the revised arrangement it will take place the next night, Thursday, Jan. 25. This alteration in dates has been made to accommodate Odnoposoff's appearance at Calgary, where the theatre was unavailable on Jan. 25, but was disengaged on Jan. 24. Thus, the Edmonton and Calgary dates were switched.

Mrs. Meaden said that she proposed to notify subscribers individually by mail, of the change. She expressed profound regret that Milstein had found it necessary to arrange for a substitute as he is a front rank violinist. "But this is a situation over which neither we nor anyone else has any control," she said. "Under the circumstances I think we are fortunate in obtaining an artist of Mr. Odnoposoff's stature. He comes to us after a triumphant debut in New York, and when he was here in December, Mr. Uninsky spoke of him in the warmest possible terms, and forecast that within a very short time, his name would be familiar to concert audiences throughout the land, and that he would take his place alongside Milstein and other top notch violinists."

While Mrs. Meaden was grappling with the manifold problems arising from Milstein's illness, she was engrossed in details of the concert by Richard Crooks, Metropolitan Opera Association tenor, at the Empire on Friday next, Jan. 19. Arthur LeBlanc, Canadian violinist, will assist. The Crooks concert is an "added" attraction, separate from the subscription series, and seats were thrown open on a first-come, first-served basis. The seats were made available last Monday morning. A queue had formed up at Heintzman's long before the box office opened. By Wednesday the theatre was completely sold out and Mrs. Meaden was turning away customers here, and sending back money orders from rural points.

It is possible that anywhere from 100 to 150 chairs will be placed on the stage, but this is contingent upon them being available. The tremendous demand for tickets is a genuine tribute to Mr. Crooks. This will be his fourth appearance in the Celebrity Series concerts, and on each occasion he has sung to capacity audiences. There is probably no more popular tenor in the world. Added to his voice is an attractive personality. His popularity with opera, concert and radio audiences remains undiminished, and his records retain a place among the leaders in volume of sales.

Below is the program for the concert: O Del Mio Dolce Ardor, Gluck; Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring, Bach; Silent Worship, Handel; Love Sounds the Alarm from "Acis and Galatea," Handel, all by Mr. Crooks; Chaconne, Vitali-Charlier; Prelude from Sonata in E Major for violin, Bach-Kreisler, played by Mr. LeBlanc; Du bist die Ruh, Hall, Mein and Eifersucht und Stolz, Schubert; aria, Lamento di Federico from "L'Arlesiana," Cilea, Mr. Crooks; Lotus Land, Cyril Scott; Child's Caprice, LeBlanc; Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, Saint-Saens, Mr. LeBlanc; To the Children, Rachmaninoff; Sea Fever, Ireland; Retreat, LaForge; and There is No Death, O'Hara, Mr. Crooks.

The Edmonton Civic Opera Society has decided that "Rose-Marie" will be presented for four days at the Empire theatre on April 11, 12, 13 and 14, with a matinee on the last day. Rehearsal material is on the way, and it is expected to arrive in time to enable rehearsals to commence on Jan. 16. Casting has not started yet, but Mrs. James B. Carmichael, general musical director, is surveying possible candidates for the various roles and she is expected to reach a decision soon.

There is some expectation that Laurier Picard, who is rated as one of the best comedians ever developed here, but who has been kept occupied lately mainly with duties as dramatic director, will play the leading comedy role of Hard-Boiled Herman. Negotiations are under way with David Oldham, Vancouver baritone, to come and play the leading male role. The cast calls for fewer principals than most musical plays, but some of the roles will be difficult to fill. A large chorus is needed and there are excellent opportunities for dancing.

McCoy Health Service

Although most doctors frown upon the use of the word bilious, I find that many patients complain of biliousness and it is certain that a sick man is not concerned so much with the correct name of his symptoms as he is with relief.

The patient who is bilious is blue, depressed and weary; he has a headache, coated tongue and poor appetite. The skin has a muddy, sallow look and the whites of the eyes may take on a yellowish tinge. His stomach is upset and he may have a fever. As a general rule, he will feel miserable for a few days, after which the liver readjusts itself and the symptoms disappear.

The most common cause of biliousness is overeating and particularly the overuse of rich foods. The patient with a sluggish liver and any of these bilious symptoms will do well to omit fats, greasy foods, sugars and starches for a time, and to use a larger amount of vegetables instead.

It is especially important for the patient with any tendency to biliousness to maintain strict intestinal cleanliness. If the colon refuses to empty itself normally, then the enema may be used temporarily to secure an immediate cleansing. In the meantime, the patient should be learning how to adjust his diet so as to provide more bulk with the idea of re-training the colon to cleanse itself with regularity.

During the actual attack of biliousness, the patient will often experience marked relief by going on a diet of only green vegetables. Two or three meals a day should be used, which are made up of any vegetables the patient desires. Some patients prefer to use the cooked vegetables with butter as a seasoning; while others prefer to use their vegetables in the form of a non-starchy soup, taking several small meals a day of this soupy mixture whenever they get hungry. Generally this vegetable regimen needs to be kept up only two or three days at the most.

To get the quickest results it is best to take one or two enemas a day to keep the colon clean. It is perfectly safe to use as large an amount as desired of the vegetables. They will prevent a desire for other food for which the patient may become "lonesome" unless well filled with the vegetables or vegetable soup.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Veterans Returning Home Readjusted to Civil Life

By JACK BRAYLEY

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—(CP)—When Canadian servicemen overseas come home they begin a rehabilitation process leading to the best possible health, a home, a livelihood and a reasonable amount of security.

When discharge comes, the men and women are taken over by Veterans Affairs, the department and steered through various preparatory channels to a useful and remunerative job.

His department is sending 750 counsellors to a staff school to instill in them "our philosophy and program and they are being told they must lean toward the man in any decisions they have to make."

Maj.-Gen. Guy Turner, seconded from the army to line up central accommodation in all the large cities for veterans' department branches, is completing his task. Some of the jobs have salaries ranging up to $4,200.

"ESPECIALLY PROUD" Mr. Mackenzie, 33, and a lawyer, is "especially proud" of the educational program by which servicemen so desiring can go to college and even take post-graduate courses with service rates of pay and allowances continuing to support them and their next-of-kin.

There are more than 500 veterans students already enrolled in Canadian colleges, and university representatives are meeting in the capital next week to discuss plans for handling the additional enrolment this plan is expected to entail. Already several universities have inaugurated three-term years instead of two terms.

Mr. Mackenzie said in most cases of disorientation it was found the discharge was a "motivated psychopath" who had been given every consideration but who was "sore at the world" and wouldn't respond to the most kindly offers of co-operation in adjusting himself to civil life.

In other cases, the action of speedy handling of gratuity cheques and the streamlining of benefit procedure has brought letters of one of the largest percentages ever turned in a national event. The bidding and making of a slam this hand helped their score a lot. The opening lead was helpful, as he didn't have to guess the location of the spade ace. West made a very good defensive play by jumping right up with the ace of spades and returning the deuce of diamonds. However, Sillidor decided that he was being put on the spot and elected to take the diamond finesse at once. Of course, when the queen held, there was nothing to the hand, as the other losing diamond could be discarded on the king of clubs.

Tax Commission To Open Hearings

VANCOUVER, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Recommendations covering an equitable basis for application of income and excess profits tax on co-operatives in Canada is the task of a royal commission which begins its public hearings here Monday.

The commission, which will hold hearings in all main Canadian cities after the Vancouver sittings and next Wednesday, is headed by Mr. Justice Errol M. McDougall of Montreal. At present co-operatives are not subject to taxation.

Private and incorporated companies in competition with co-operatives will submit briefs outlining their contentions that exemption of co-operatives results in discrimination. Representatives of co-operatives will argue in defence of the present taxation system.

In addition to Mr. Justice McDougall, members of the commission are B. N. Arnaon, Regina; G. A. Elliott, Edmonton; J. M. Nadeau, Montreal; and J. J. Vaughan, Toronto.

City Minister's Last Sermon

By SQDN.-LDR. J. GORDON BROWN
Minister of Robertson United Church.

Below is the text of the last sermon delivered over the BBC from London, England, by the late Squadron Leader J. Gordon Brown of Robertson United Church, Edmonton, on Oct. 8 last. He was reported killed by enemy action in Belgium on Nov. 27, 1944. The subject is "The Sustaining Power of the Unseen."—EDITOR.

H E ENDURED as seeing Him Who is invisible." Heb. c. XI, v. 27. Of all the qualities of human life which capture our imagination and occupy our praise there is none prior to the power of endurance. The heart and the mind snap to the salute before the man who holds on when there is nothing left, "except the will which says 'Hold on'." The victorious quality of life is not its dash but its durability; not how far it can go, but how much end with what spirit it can bear.

These war years have given us ample illustration of this. Perhaps we are too near these great events to single them out, but it is safe to say that the heroic resistance of Warsaw in 1939, the fortitude of London in the blitz, the defence of Stalingrad, to say nothing of epic like Dunkirk and Arrhen—will not pass from the annals of heroic achievement wrought through dogged endurance. The same is true of individual lives.

RECALLS BUNYAN

Here is John Bunyan in Bedford Jail, saying "I will stay here until the moss grows over my eyelids, but I will not deny my conscience." Here is that grotesque uncomprehending figure of John Brown, marching across the hills of Virginia to his death, yet from his fatal cell writing those letters which still evidence a prophet's calm passion and seer's truth.

So one could multiply the examples, all of which serve to make us realize how much more difficult it is to bear than to do, until we feel that in all the history of heroes there is nothing more stirring than the quiet courage, the intrepid strength of soul which our fellowmen have met and mastered the vicissitudes of life. But how did they do it?

What is the secret of this power to endure? Our text, speaking of Moses, says "He endured as seeing Him Who is invisible." There is the clue, for these words speak to us immediately of the sustaining power of a great insight. It is always so. Behind every feat of endurance there is a vision of an unseen reality. The power that nerves to the task at hand is always the power of an insight that sustains.

Do you remember the portrait which Dickens draws of Sydney Carton at the close of "The Tale of Two Cities," when he is about to die on the guillotine in place of the husband of the woman he loves? "It was said of him about the city that night that he had the most peaceful face ever seen there," and the secret of his peaceful power is found in the words which Dickens puts in his mouth before he dies: "I see a beautiful city and a brilliant people arising out of this abyss, the lives for which I lay down my life... prosperous and happy in the England I shall see no more."

SAW INVISIBLE

He saw the invisible. That, however, is not simply the psychology of a hero of romance. That is the deepest reality in the lives of men and women everywhere. What is it that holds most folk to courage and perseverance and the sacrifice of their every day work? What is it that holds you and me in the midst of temptation, or if we slip, snatches us back? Isn't it the vision of our home and loved ones? Yet need I remind you that a home is always invisible—except to the insight of the sympathetic spirit? Anyone can see the house, the walls, the toys in a litter on the floor, the pictures on the walls, but only the inner vision can see the home.

Then that room isn't just four square walls—it is the place where a loved one dwells; the toys are not litter, they are the priceless footprints of childhood scattering along their way the light that all too soon will pass; the pictures become the voices of dear spirits, the endless affection which makes life a majestic and mighty hope. You cannot see that, of course, unless you have the vision—but if you have, then home becomes a spiritual reality in which every stick of casual furniture, every instrument of domesticity is simply drenched with the lives of those we love.

But if you look ever so casually at the text you will see it says nothing about invisible things or ideals. "He endured as seeing," not that which, but, "Him Who is invisible." And as Moses served his day, so we can adequately serve ours only as we gain that sustaining insight which sees the Divine Power through all the warp and woof of our madly woven life, which sees Him not merely in the shadows, but through all the passion and pain of men shaping the growing structure of His impregnable spiritual order which shall some day be His Kingdom come on earth.

PUNGENCY TO LIFE

And believe me, that is not dope! It is that which alone can grip our souls and give pungency to life. It is that which will enable us to endure. Why? Because in that vision is:

1. THE SOURCE OF COURAGE. Courage has been the mark of believers in all ages. It was so with Paul. The moral courage of that man is amazing. In the morning when he expected to be soaked in pitch and used as a torch in Nero's garden he calmly declared, "I know in whom I have believed." There was nothing which could daunt him who believed so profoundly in the unseen and eternal God. In our own day that heroic defender of Malta, Gen. Sir William Dobbie, has in the presence of some of us here, borne testimony to this sustaining and strengthening power which comes from a vision of Him, who unseen is nevertheless very real. Thomas Hardy, walking in the gloom of an autumn evening heard a thrush suddenly burst into song, and he says:

"I could think there trembled through His happy goodnight air,
Some blessed hope whereof he knew
And I was unaware."

"Some blessed hope." Yes, there is. "The Lord is the strength of my life of whom shall I be afraid." The soul so garrisoned knows no fear.

2. HERE, TOO, IS THE SOURCE OF CONFIDENCE. Faith in the unseen environment, faith in the ultimate triumph of truth, righteousness and love, faith in the all conquering power of God lifts men above circumstances. It shows them greater powers at work in the world around them.

EVER THUS

It was ever thus. Read the lives of those who have overcome the world within and won great victories in the world without, and you will see that it was their faculty of seeing the Divine, of living in the presence of the eternal, made them unconquerable. The man who can see God in all the good and ill that checkers human life, who can look out into the maddening maze of things and know that behind it all is an explanation so good as to deserve the name of "love," cannot be put down—

And all is well though faith and form
Be Sundered in the night of fear,
We'll roars the storm, of those who hear
A deeper voice across the storm.

That voice across the storm speaks confidence to the heart. It is the secret of confidence and endurance. So we too may venture into the unknown and put our confidence in the unseen. The spirit of God is always near, but it is always in front.

Nothing can conquer our souls or defeat our purposes if we drive the stakes of faith deep in the reality of God.

Plan Dedication Chancel of Church

The chancel in Metropolitan United Church has been almost completely furnished by generous friends. The pulpit, combined reading and prayer desk, and Communion Table along with other furnishings will be dedicated at a special service Sunday morning. The minister will preach and conduct the dedication service.

In the evening, Fl-Li Wesley Bainbridge will be the guest speaker. Mr. Bainbridge, one of the Alberta United Church ministers, has served in Canada as chaplain for the past two years. He is in the city on embarkation leave before proceeding overseas. The young people will hold a musical evening in the assembly hall after church.

Christian Science

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science Churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is John 4:23. One of the Scriptural citations is "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer" (Psalms 19:14). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality" (p. 242).

Conditions in World Demand "Social Gospel"

World conditions demand evangelism which "seeks a Christian Social Order," and which "brings the transforming Grace of God to the individual soul." Methodist Bishop James C. Baker of Los Angeles, chairman of the International Missionary Council, declared recently.

"The two are inseparably bound together," he told the annual meeting of the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. "As a plain matter of fact many leaders of the church world agree with Stanley Jones that today the two separated are weak and ineffective, but together they come with power."

Asserting that the "social gospel" is "coming with new strength into the evangelism of our time," Bishop Baker said declarations from both Protestants and Catholics show that the church "is on the offensive on behalf of a Christian Society with a thirst for a true freedom, a true justice, and a real security."

MORE SPECIFIC
Evangelism for 1945, Bishop Baker insisted, must be "more specific in content, and it must explore again with its converts the common faith which is at the core of our Christian heritage."

"The pulpit must accept more consistently its teaching office and through books and the public press extensive educational work must be carried on," he said. "And somehow Christian education must get into the educational system itself if the world is to survive."

Bishop Baker predicted that the future will bring something similar to the circuit riding of pioneer days when the evangelist followed the moving tides of population. "Evangelism," he observed, "must get out of old grooves and go where people are. If the population is in larger units than formerly then the church's ministrations must be adapted to the service of these larger groups."

Two principal contributions may be expected of religion in man's quest for world order, Bishop Baker said: "prophetic witness" to the religious doctrines and principles underlying any just and durable peace, and worship that must range farther into human relationships.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY
Touching briefly on religious liberty and evangelism, Bishop Baker asserted that "the significance of religious freedom for the spiritual reformation of all nations must greatly concern us when there is so much repression of religious liberty by governments and other agencies."

Bishop Baker stressed the need for appeal to youth if evangelism is to attain "its highest success." He pointed out that significant youth movements have survived even in the midst of war, such as the World's Student Christian

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Keep Morale High

KEEPING morale at high pitch in wartime is a matter of individual concern. The spirit in which war is conducted may easily be as vital as the shipping of material to combat armies. Morale, to use a crude metaphor, is the soul, not only of war, but of every undertaking that calls for unity of purpose and effort.

What, specifically, is morale? We recognize it easily enough in the soldier's willingness to accept privation or danger; to keep hope alive when the odds seem insuperable; to make his best effort when he most desperately craves rest. We perceive it less readily, however, in the ability of Canadians generally to view themselves against the perspective, not of their own small lives, but of the life of the community at large. Morale ceases when it becomes selfish; its ultimate expression is annihilation of self.

We on the home front should remember that, especially when rationing, shortages, and other inconveniences tempt us to complain. Do we tend sometimes to forget how little we suffer in comparison with those who are meeting war face to face? Do we find ourselves magnifying petty restrictions? If so—take heed!

We must keep our souls free from the stain of meanness—from the callous, hard egoism that closes eyes and heart to those who, in the drab, foul dens of war everywhere, really suffer. Let us, for wisdom's sake, at least, remember that a low morale quotient may indicate also a low moral quotient. Who knows by how many months selfishness may postpone final victory; how many precious, unfulfilled lives may yet be sacrificed because too many—at home—choose to put personal considerations before all else?

Sentry's Prayer

By Cpl. Hugh R. Wallace

Last night the moon shone so brightly

It bathed all the camp with its light,

The air was so cold and so frosty,

As I walked on guard through the night.

I thought, as I walked in the moonlight,

Of the thousands of boys over there,

Over there in the mountains and jungles,

And I offered up to God this prayer:

"Dear God, guard those boys in their battles,

As they fight for the cause that is right,

Guide them, protect them, and bring them

Through the perils that lurk in the night.

"And God, bring them safe to the morning—

The morning when peace reigns for ever

And war for all time has been banished—

This, dear God, is our hope and our prayer."

Federation, the Christian Associations, and many others.

"We shall need to do everything we can to strengthen them," he added, "especially those that are international." Bishop Baker expressed belief that "the hour has come for another great Christian movement," and said:

"If it comes, as I believe it will, it will be because strong consecrated young men and women with personalities redeemed and trained, give themselves to this task as they have in every other creative era of Church history."

Churches of the downtown district united in four nights of prayer during the recent Week of Prayer. On Tuesday evening in First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. J. MacBeath Miller presided, and Dr. W. C. Peirce of the Pentecostal Tabernacle spoke on the meaning of prayer. On Wednesday evening the Rev. Canon A. M. Trendell presided in all Saints' Cathedral, with the sermon being delivered by the Rev. Daniel Young, pastor of First Baptist Church.

On Thursday evening, Mr. Young presided over the service in First Baptist Church, with Canon Trendell speaking. Friday evening the service was held in the Pentecostal Tabernacle with Dr. Miller speaking. The week's services were under direction of the Rev. Dr. A. K. McMinn, pastor of McDougall United Church.

Many friends from all of the churches attended the different services, and laymen and laywomen as well as ministers took part.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS AS FOUND IN THE PROTESTANT BIBLE (King James Version)

Exodus, chapter 20, Verse.

- I. And God spake all these words, saying,
- I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.
- Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
- Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth.
- Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me.
- And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.
- Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain.
- Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy.
- Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work:
- But the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy man servant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy ox, nor thy ass, nor any of thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates:
- For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and hallowed it.
- Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.
- Thou shalt not kill.
- Thou shalt not commit adultery.
- Thou shalt not steal.
- Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.
- Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS AS FOUND IN THE ROMAN CATHOLIC VERSION (Douay Version)

Exodus, chapter 20, Verse.

- I. And the Lord spake all these words:
- I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.
- Thou shalt not have strange gods before me.
- Thou shalt not make to thyself a graven thing, nor the likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor of those things that are in the water under the earth.
- Thou shalt not adore them, nor serve them: I am the Lord thy God, mighty, jealous, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, upon the third and fourth generation of them that hate me.
- And shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my commandments.
- Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain: for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that shall take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.
- Remember that thou keep holy the sabbath day.
- Six days shalt thou labor, and shalt do all thy works.
- But on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God: thou shalt do no work on it, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy man servant, nor thy maid servant, nor thy beast, nor the stranger that is within thy gates.
- For in six days the Lord made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are in them, and rested on the seventh day: therefore the Lord blessed the sabbath day, and sanctified it.
- Honour thy father and thy mother, that thou mayest be long lived upon the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee.
- Thou shalt not kill.
- Thou shalt not commit adultery.
- Thou shalt not steal.
- Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.
- Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house: neither shalt thou desire his wife, nor his servant, nor his handmaid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor his ass, nor anything that is his.

At Christ Church

The Rev. Murdoch MacKinnon, M.A., D.D., Minister of Christ Church who will be the guest preacher at Christ Church on Sunday morning. He has selected as his subject: "The Shoreless Ocean."

Nomination of New Archbishop Meets With Widespread Approval

Nomination of the Rt. Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, 57-year-old Bishop of London, as the 98th Archbishop of Canterbury, primate of all England, and Metropolitan, was cordially received by the press and leaders of all denominations.

D. Fisher, who will succeed the late Dr. William Temple in the Church of England's highest office, was nominated by King George VI on recommendation of Prime Minister Churchill for election by the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury.

It is expected that the ceremony confirming his election will be held in St. Paul's Cathedral on Jan. 24, and that his enthronement as Archbishop will take place at Canterbury on Feb. 2.

ELECTION EXPECTED
Dr. Fisher's election was expected in church circles here, although the trend of other recent appointments sent speculation in the direction of younger men. The Archbishop of York was reported to have requested that his name not be considered.

The Archbishop-designate, who has six sons, four of whom are in the British army, was a schoolmaster for 21 years. He was assistant master at Marlborough School until 1914, when he succeeded Dr. Temple as headmaster of Repton School, a position he held for 18 years. In 1932 he was appointed Bishop of Chester with no previous experience in parish work or ecclesiastical administration. Being the son of the Rev. H. Fisher, Vicar of Nuneaton, in Warwickshire, however, he is familiar with parish life and work.

Dr. Fisher has the reputation of possessing great organizing and administrative ability, and since becoming Bishop of London in 1939 he has shown co-operation with leaders of other communions. He is chairman of the committee of Anglicans, Roman Catholics, and Free Churchmen co-operating on social and religious matters.

Dr. Fisher is not well known to the general public, as he has written very little, and has not figured much on national platforms.

Last year he gained widespread attention when he asked the ecclesiastical commissioners to take over the emoluments of the Bishopric of London, thus reducing the emoluments of 10,000 pounds a year and Fulham Palace to a stipend of 5,000 pounds annually, and rooms in the palace.

BREAKS PRECEDENT
Mrs. Fisher also made news in November of 1943 when she broke a precedent in England by being the first woman ever to make an address in St. Paul's Cathedral in connection with a series of Wednesday meetings.

Dr. Fisher did not share the late Archbishop's connection with the Labor Party, but was closely associated with Dr. Temple in running the Malvern Conference in 1941, which was generally considered to be "a healthy outburst of Anglican social radicalism."

Dr. Fisher's elevation to Archbishop will leave the work of re-organizing the London diocese incomplete, and the problem of selecting his successor for this task will be great.

Tabernacle Holds Business Meeting
The annual business meeting of the Tabernacle was held in the Tabernacle Tuesday, Jan. 9. Reports were heard from various departments on work accomplished during the last year.

The following officers were elected: A. E. Williams, treasurer; J. Bogart, Sunday School Superintendent. Members added to the executive board were: Boyce Greene, Harvey Hill and Jack Valpy.

The following deacons were elected: J. Valpy, C. Carse. For the board of elders the following were named: J. Gibson, F. L. Belton, J. M. Miller, J. Bratford.

The Rev. E. F. Mapstone presided.

Germans Modify Ban on Ministry
The ban on religious ministry to Germany's air protection forces has been modified by Reich Minister Hermann Goering in a decree permitting pastors or priests to attend the dying or severely wounded.

The decree states that henceforth clergymen may be summoned for persons dangerously hurt while engaged in air defence activities.

Meanwhile, only a limited amount of spiritual ministrations is being permitted in German hospitals. Clergymen are allowed to visit wards only when their presence is requested by a dying patient.

Two Services

The Rev. J. T. Stephens who will preach at Buchanan United Church Sunday morning and at Beverly United Sunday evening.

Plan Service Mark Founding SMCL In City

First anniversary of the USAAF Servicemen's Christian League here will be observed Jan. 30, with chaplains and servicemen of both Canadian and American armed forces taking part. Sgt. Thomas C. Sizemore, president, announced Saturday. Premier Ernest Manning and His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen have accepted invitations to bring greetings on the occasion.

The churches of England, of course, have also undergone a devastating bombardment from the air but our British fellow-Christians have announced that, although their own burden of rebuilding will be heavy, they are not asking for help from the outside since they realize that the need on the Continent will be far greater.

DEATH OF LITERATURE
The death of Christian literature of all kinds can hardly be imagined. On account of the shortage of paper and of manpower, and also the destruction of printing plants, the publication of even the most basic materials of religious nurture has almost wholly ceased. The printing of the Bible in Continental Europe has ceased in Norway, Germany and France, and is a mere trickle in other countries with the exception of Switzerland and Sweden.

FREE OF SUSPICION
Our assistance must be free from any assumptions of superiority or patronage. We have more financial assets than they, but it does not follow that we have greater resources of the spirit. On the contrary, some of the churches in the orbit of the Axis have displayed an amazing spiritual vitality. The ordeal through which they have passed has deepened their insights into the Christian faith.

ON BOARD
We who have not suffered will find that we have quite as much to receive from them as to give to them.

The first requisite of all will be mutual understanding. We shall have to learn, as it were, to speak each other's language. Those who represent us in Europe will not be in a position to render any far-reaching service unless they can enter with sensitivity and sympathy and appreciation into the experience of European Christians.

Train Hostage
Dean H. K. Hein, of Grenaa, Denmark, who was arrested last September is now being used as a "train hostage," according to information here. The 49-year-old clergyman is among several prominent Danish leaders who are frequently forced to ride, hand-cuffed, behind barred windows in the forward cars of troop transport trains, to forestall sabotage by Danish patriots.

The World Council of Christian Reconstruction in Post-War Europe

By SAMUEL MCGREA CAVERT
General Secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.
(Last of a Series of Five)

No more strategic question faces American Christians today than what they are to do to help the Christian forces of the continent of Europe the moment hostilities are over. It is not a problem that can be referred to a political organization like the UNRRA. This agency doubtless will carry the main responsibility for mass feeding and large-scale medical relief; but there will be a distinctive service, of a more personal character, to be rendered by the Christian agencies.

For they, while meeting physical needs, can also minister to the equally insistent needs of the spirit.

Food will be terribly important in Europe, but it will not be enough. Along with bread for the body will be needed food for the soul. Any plans for reconstruction which do not take account of the key importance of Christian faith and Christian love in post-war Europe will only be touching the surface aspects of the problem.

In spite of the veil of censorship that hangs over Germany and the occupied countries, we are not altogether in the dark as to what the concrete needs of the churches in these lands will be. Thanks to the World Council of Churches, which in its provisional form, is already actively at work surveying the situation, we know some of the major necessities which will press painfully upon them.

OBVIOUS NEED
1. The most obvious need will be the rebuilding of churches that have been destroyed by the incessant felling of bombs. No one knows how many churches have been left in ruins, or gravely damaged, but the number must run into the thousands. This will be especially true in Germany, Poland, Russia and France, but Holland, Belgium, Italy, and still other countries will probably record a serious toll.

The churches of England, of course, have also undergone a devastating bombardment from the air but our British fellow-Christians have announced that, although their own burden of rebuilding will be heavy, they are not asking for help from the outside since they realize that the need on the Continent will be far greater.

2. Hundreds of Christian institutions of mercy and relief will need immediate reinforcement. Some of them have been laid low by the fortunes of war; others have been taken over by the Nazi government or have seen their resources confiscated. All will be confronted after the war with unprecedented demands for their services from the sick, the disabled, children orphaned by the war, homeless refugees, and destitute aged.

These institutions, springing out of the humanitarian impulses of Christianity, are in a unique position to bear a witness of Christian love and reconciliation at the same time that they minister to physical needs. But most of them will be so prostrate in the period immediately following the war that they will need our generous aid to enable them to measure up to responsibilities far greater than they have ever carried before.

DEARTH OF LITERATURE
3. The dearth of Christian literature of all kinds can hardly be imagined. On account of the shortage of paper and of manpower, and also the destruction of printing plants, the publication of even the most basic materials of religious nurture has almost wholly ceased. The printing of the Bible in Continental Europe has ceased in Norway, Germany and France, and is a mere trickle in other countries with the exception of Switzerland and Sweden.

FREE OF SUSPICION
Our assistance must be free from any assumptions of being designed to further denominational extension. All those who can help must help all those who need help, without any other thought than that of a mutual sharing as members of the one Body of Christ.

Each denominational group will naturally feel a primary responsibility for those who are most closely related to it historically. American Lutherans, for example, will be especially concerned for the Lutherans in Germany; American Presbyterians and Reformed, for the Reformed Church in France; American Baptists, for the struggling Baptist minority in Rumania.

But in no case is a denominational approach sufficient. Every American Christian has a direct stake in the welfare of every vital Christian group in Europe. And there will be some tasks—for example, the rebuilding of the Church in Germany after more than a decade of Nazi hostility—which will be of far too great magnitude to be handled by any one denomination. It is therefore cause for rejoicing that the Provisional Committee of the World Council of Churches has created a Department of Reconstruction and Inter-Church Aid, and that the framework is already provided for coordinating the relief work of all the American churches—and also of the churches in countries like Sweden and Switzerland and Canada—in a truly ecumenical program.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

ADVANCE sale of tickets at Mike's on Friday indicated a possible sell-out crowd for tonight's junior hockey exhibition at the Arena between Regina Commandos and Edmonton Canadians. The game will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

Clarence Moher, coach of the Edmonton junior league leaders, reports the entire Canuck squad all set to go, with the exception of high-scoring centre Vince Bannan, injured in the New Year's session against Calgary.

Although the Canadian coach did not make any announcement as to starting lineup, it is expected he again will use Doug Anderson, still eligible for juvenile, in Bannan's place on the line with John Rypien and Cyril Thomas. Jim Slugg, Eddie Thomas and Ray Spencer also have been working together, and so have Joe Sawchuk, Leo LeClair and Art Kaleta.

Both goalies, Don Murray and Sammy Hegert are available and the defence list is complete with Ken Anderson, Bill Gadsby, Leo Sorenson and Bernie O'Connor ready to start. Ab Superstein, very valuable either on defence or up front, will be with the team tonight also.

FASTBALL WILL MISS BILL

With the passing of Bill Burren of Saskatoon whose death occurred Thursday, western Canada loses not only a fine sportsman, but one of her greatest fastball enthusiasts.

Under Bill's guidance girls fastball had developed in his home city to the stage where crowds of two and three thousands were not at all unusual. His Saskatoon Pats are the current western champions. Edmonton Army and Navy Pats, western finalists last year, and Walk-Rites, former western finalists, rated Bill tops both as a host and a strategist.

Incidentally he had agreed to under-write the girls western championship series for this year, tentative plans also made last fall calling for the finals to be in Edmonton in 1946.

HERE AND THERE

GLENORA Skating Club's carnival, for many years one of Edmonton's top-ranking winter attractions, returns to the Arena on March 1, 2 and 3 after a lapse of three seasons. Extensive preparations already are underway to assure the same high standard attained in former years.

That co-ed versus professor hockey match listed as one of the feature attractions for the Varsity rink opening on Sunday, shapes up as another "Battle of the Century." And it probably can be assumed with reasonable certainty, too, that the majority of the penalties called against the professors will be for holding.

John Lauriente is coach for the girls and Elio D'Appolonia, former Golden Bear footballer and hockeyist now on the staff, will be head tactician for the pros. Brother Azarius, of St. Joseph's College, has been named chief water-boy.

Congrats are due to members of the North Edmonton Battalion, Veterans' Volunteer Reserve, for their fine showing in the recent Dominion outdoor small-bore rifle competitions. In addition to a specially-engraved coaster for a first, Roy Cox won four other medals. He missed a grand aggregate by just one x—in other words, another Canadian marksman had one more dead-centre than Roy. That is good shooting! C. R. Nash was another several-prize winner.

Edmonton Veterans Do Well In Dominion Rifle Events

Announcement has been made by the Canadian Small Bore Rifle Association of the results of the Dominion-wide outdoor competitive matches held during the past summer, and the outcome is very gratifying to Edmonton marksmen, who took part.

Members of the North Edmonton Battalion, Veterans' Volunteer Reserve who participated are very pleased with the results, and quite justifiably so. A glance at the records shows excellent shooting by these marksmen, all of whom are veterans of the First Great War.

With the exception of one competitor, C. R. Nash who is an experienced shot, this is the first time any of them had entered the big-time competition. Nash was well up in his class, getting three 3rds, a 5th and a 6th.

Outstanding was Roy Cox who, in addition to being well up in other events, came first in the Dominion for the Class "C" 100 yards event. In the grand aggregate for Class "C" he missed leading the field by just one point, taking second prize. For his 100-yard win, Cox received a specially-engraved gold "coaster."

All prizes, consisting of coasters, spoons and medals were awarded to the various winners at the battalion parade on Monday last. Musketry Officer T. A. Moorhouse, himself a competitor, made the awards, assisted by A. Bramley-Moore, who has since taken over the duties of musketry officer. Moorhouse having been appointed second in command of "B" Company.

Following are the North Battalion VVR results as announced by the Dominion organization:

Match 1 (50 yards)—Class B, C. R. Nash, 6th; class C, Roy Cox 3rd, T. A. Moorhouse 5th.
Match 2 (100 yards)—Class B, C. R. Nash, 5th; class C, Roy Cox 1st.
Match 3 (club pairs, 50 and 100 yards)—C. R. Nash of North Side VVR and J. DeGaus of South Side VVR and Greater Edmonton Rifle Association, 2nd; class C, Roy Cox of North Side

Leafs Tounce

South Siders

By 11-1 Score

Maple Leafs went on a scoring spree last night and whipped the lowly South Side club 11-1 in the City Midget Hockey League clash at the Leafs home rink on 101 st and 120 ave.

Paced by Jack Strati, Ken Watson and John Stewart, the Leafs had very little trouble in turning back the visiting sextet. They rattled in four in the first period without reply and then added five in the second as goalie Eric Patterson was enjoying a shutout.

His hopes of blanking the South Siders went by the boards early in the third period, however, as the losers collected their lone tally from the stick of Norm Slen on a pass from Ken Johannsen. Before the period ended, though, the winners netted two more boosting their total to 11.

Watson and Strati both banged in three each for the Leafs while Strati picked up two assists and Watson one. Stewart had two goals and three assists. Other goal-getters were Jack H. Yburton, Thompson and Phillips.

Today's Sport Parade

By Jack Cuddy

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(BUP)—Wartime sports have found an unexpected advocate in Thomas E. Dewey, conservative governor of New York; and Dewey, in his first scrimmage with Metropolitan sports writers, had found them, let us say, "ultra-zealous."

IT HAPPENED LIKE THIS

Tom apparently decided to pay more attention to boxing after his knockout in November. In keeping with this decision, he journeyed from Albany to Manhattan late Thursday to announce personally that Eddie Egan would be the new chairman of the state athletic commission.

The man with the mustache planned to make his announcement to a cozy little group of boxing writers. Accordingly, invitations were telegraphed only to scrap scribes, and only a cozy little suite at the Hotel Roosevelt was reserved for the ceremony.

DEWEY FLABBERGASTED

DEWEY was flabbergasted when he arrived, flanked by the astonished secretary of state Tom Curran. The jammed suite overflowed reporters and photographers far into the corridor. Seemed that every athletic chronicler and lens had within a radius of 40 miles had muscled in on the party. One gal, with her hair awry, could be seen battling her way to a point of advantage. Postage stamp space finally was cleared in the arena known as the drawing room, and Dewey sank into an over-stuffed chair.

"Gentlemen and lady," began the governor, "I am overcom by this surprisingly enthusiastic turnout. I had no idea—etc."

After Egan, former olympic and AEF boxing champion, had been introduced as the next chair-man, Dewey innocently asked if the writers had any questions—which was like unwrapping a steak in a lion cage. Did they ask questions?

Dewey acquiesced himself like a champion during a half hour of barraging from all angles. Once they had him on ropes, with a succession of queries about the racing ban; but tactful Tom pulled them into a clinch, and hammered back with an off the record reply that surprised and satisfied everyone.

NO QUESTION ABOUT VALUE

A FIGHT writer swung from the floor like this: "Hey gov, there seems to be considerable uncertainty in Washington as to whether sports have any genuine morale value in wartime. What is your opinion on this?"

Taking advantage of this opinion, Dewey came in with his Sunday punch to win the bout by a wide margin. He exploded this on their whiskers:

"In my mind there never has been any question about the value of sports in wartime. They are of great importance in building and maintaining morale. This has been demonstrated in Great Britain, and even in occupied countries where sports activities have been encouraged. It is only in totalitarian countries where they try to eliminate sports in war time."

Hitting Terrific Pace

St. Michael's Junior Club Ousting Oshawa Generals

TORONTO, Jan. 13 — (CP) — St. Michael's College Majors, roaring through their Ontario Hockey Association schedule at a terrific 11-goal-a-game clip, are writing an emphatic "finis" to Oshawa General's long domination of provincial junior hockey.

Led by Johnny Blute and Leo Gravelle who together have sniped 34 goals in 10 starts, Majors are unbeaten in the six-team junior puck derby and their only serious rivals, St. Catharines Falcons, are beginning to fade.

Falcons have dropped their last two games after putting up a dogged struggle for leadership.

Charlie Conacher's Generals are mere ghosts of the great Oshawa team that swept to the 1944 Memorial Cup. They are barely holding third place against Galt Red Wings and Toronto Young Rangers, respectively tenants of fourth and fifth.

Toronto Marlboros, with a single triumph in 11 games, are last.

Five Years After War Railways in Great Britain Plan Complete Modernization

By JOHN DAUPHINEE

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(CP)—The dingy, dirty, rattling coaches will disappear from British railroads . . . the smooth, speedy electric locomotive will replace the smoke-belching, jerky steam engine . . . drafty old wooden stations will be replaced by modern buildings . . . long-distance trains will average 80 miles an hour . . .

Dumb-Bells

Or, anyway, that's what British railways say is going to happen. They're a bit vague about when the glorious day will come but tentatively they think five years after the war ends will see the job done.

They don't even guess at the cost. Through the war, passenger traffic has taken second place to war freight.

But official railway statement promises that after the war every modern facility and technical development will be used to give the public the world's best service.

TO RESTORE SERVICE

In the first year after the war the railway program calls for restoration of newspaper and mail trains knocked off schedules during hostilities; restoration of long-distance business trains, residential services and holiday expresses. There will be a "clean-up" and repainting of rolling stock and stations. Old engines, coaches and freight cars kept in service to meet war demands will be scrapped as quickly as possible.

In the four following years the average speed of main-line trains will be increased and permanent permit speeds of 80 miles an hour. Bridges will be rebuilt, lines widened and approaches to busy traffic centres improved.

Of new passenger rolling stock, the railway announcement says: "Bright colors and new fabrics will be prominent features, and the possibilities of plastics and other raw materials are being studied."

Unity of Labor In 1945 Urged

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor Progressive party, at the dinner commemorating his 54th birthday, last night appealed for labor unity during 1945. He would support a postponement of the federal election if the war was made postnomine necessary. He supported the statement of the president of the Bank of Nova Scotia that income, production and employment must be on a higher level than in 1939.

Cigarettes Stolen

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Theft of $20,000 worth of British cigarettes from the Royal Arsenal Co-operative Society's warehouse was blamed yesterday on black market gangs who allegedly have stolen $200,000 worth during the last eight months. This loss of approximately 10,000,000 cigarettes has not affected the London market.

"All Quiet"—But Canadians Keep Alert on the Western Front

While great battles swirl to the south where Field Marshal von Rundstedt made his first big counter-offensive on the Western Front, Canadian troops have settled down to a virtual duplicate of the trench warfare of the last Great War. Everyone is constantly on the alert, however, to counter any new move from Jerry, and patrolling actions by both sides are the order of the day and night. Here are two pictures taken on the Canadian sector. At left, Pte. Bill McConnell of London, Ont., is preparing to toss a hand grenade after pulling the pin with his teeth, while at right, three Canucks stand on the alert in the dugout gouged from an earthy bank. The men are Pte. Sam McClymont of Sarnia, Ont., Pte. Bill McConnell of London, Ont., and Pte. Ron Weir of Annapolis, N.S.

Quebec Council Asks Internment Of Rev. Shields

QUEBEC, Jan. 13.—(CP)—The Quebec municipal council last night passed a resolution urging the federal government "to intern" Rev. T. T. Shields, Baptist clergyman of Toronto. Ald. Joseph Matte said: "I should like to meet Shields to show him that Canadians are not afraid."

The resolution, proposed by Ald. Matte, said: "Pastor Shields threatens the peace of this country and is still at large while some public men in our province have been sent to concentration camps for statements much less dangerous than those of this man."

Mr. Shields recently said at Owen Sound, Ont., that unless Roman Catholic "aggression" was checked, "we shall soon need more than ballots to defend our liberties."

Vicar KO's Billeting Officer

ST. CLEARS, Eng., Jan. 13.—(CP)—A 70-year-old clergyman yesterday was fined £5 for kayaking a billeting officer. The cane-swinging clergyman, Canon John James, vicar of St. Clears, was accused of obstructing the billeting officer, W. E. Jones. The vicar had refused to accept a compulsory billeting order to take two evacuated children at the vicarage because two children already had been billeted there for two years.

An argument ensued, court testimony showed, with the vicar threatening to report Jones, who said, according to the clergyman, "You old hypocrite, why don't you practice what you preach?" "I was quick tempered and cracked him with my stick," the vicar told police. Jones incurred a "goose egg" lump and was unconscious 20 minutes.

Legislators Urge Ban on Magazine For Boston Article

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Two state legislators from Boston last night criticized an article on Boston in the current issue of Life magazine, and one of them asked the Boston police commissioner to ban the issue from the newsstands. The house Democratic floor leader, John F. Flaherty, said in a statement that "Life magazine has reached an all-time low for cheap circulation tactics in a futile attempt to ridicule the Irish people of Boston."

State Senator Joseph L. Murphy asked Police Commissioner Thomas F. Sullivan to ban the magazine. "I refer specifically to the series of photographs in this week's issue," Flaherty said.

ernment was very anxious to "get ahead" on immigration talks with Canada and other parts of the Commonwealth.

Canuck Corvette Challenges "Foe" With Little More Than Audacity

ON BOARD HMCS MAYFLOWER, Jan. 13.—(CP)—This Canadian Flower class corvette, whose armament on her first winter voyage consisted of eight depth charges, six rifles, a tommy gun, a Lewis gun and three revolvers, and which twice challenged an "enemy" which turned out to be HMS Rodney, made the trip with practically nothing but audacity to safeguard her convoy.

Mayflower—known as "Daisy Ma"—has steamed more than 200,000 miles during nearly five years of a convoy of more than 75 ships. Montreal, she left Halifax with a convoy of more than 75 ships. She had no four-inch guns, but when a ship which resembled an armed raider appeared on the horizon at dawn, the corvette challenged her twice.

"Tell them we're going to open up if they don't answer," Lt. Cmdr. (now Cmdr.) G. H. Stephen of Halifax, Mayflower's first commanding officer, told his signalman.

Then came a signal from the "enemy"—"Carry on Canada with your gallant little ship. HMS. Rodney."

Heavy Snowfall May Cut Nazis' V-2 Offensive

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
LONDON, Jan. 13.—Scientific sources said today that heavy snowfall was likely to reduce the frequency of V-2 fire against any target, and might even cause the stratosphere rockets to explode in the air.

The V-2 is known to contain a hypersensitive fuse which detonates as soon as it touches the ground.

Three other weather factors listed as possibly affecting the number of rocket bombs the Germans launch were listed as air temperature, humidity and rain. The temperature was believed to influence the accuracy of the rocket and the rate its fuels burn.

Last of 19 Airmen On Missing Planes Are Accounted For

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Two Polish student navigators, last of 19 airmen to be located after they were forced to bail out when caught in a sudden snowstorm last night, were found late yesterday in the Muskoka district by ski-mounted airmen from the Royal Norwegian Air Force base near Gravenhurst.

Six planes of a flight of 28 from Malton No. 1 Air Observers' School were forced down by the storm, and their crew members were objects of an intensive day-long search by planes and ski-troops.

One of the storm-struck planes crash-landed at Oshawa airport while the other five crashed after their crews bailed out at various points extending from Muskoka to the Lanark district.

Believe Dominion May Itself Collect Seed Grain Debts

REGINA, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Provincial government spokesmen said Friday they saw possibility of the province being by-passed by the Dominion government which would make its own arrangements for collection of the $16,468,852 seed grain advances debt.

Yesterday, municipalities which provided seed grain to farmers in 1938, with the backing of Provincial and Federal governments, were informed by Federal Minister Ilesley that they might be held responsible for 100 per cent. of the advances. Previously, the Provincial CCF government had advised municipalities they should cease collections from the farmers when 50 per cent. of the principal had been paid.

CVB Grateful
To Volunteers

Every organization has someone of a group of people who cheerfully do their work day and day out without anyone stopping to praise them and tell them how much their work is appreciated. Most of the work is done behind the scenes and is therefore unobtrusive. The CVB volunteers are such a group. They have cheerfully gone out to interesting jobs—the unsung heroes.

With Alberta's province-wide survey into post-war buying plans of housewives, farmers and industrialists scheduled to begin Monday, the CVB, through its Book system, will interview housewives in an endeavor to ascertain facts concerning post-war buying. Mrs. R. Schurman is zoning chairman. The women will fill out questionnaires answered by housewives. It is hoped the survey will be concluded by the end of January, in order that tabulation of results may be started early next month. The tabulation will be finished in February, and results will form the basis of a second survey.

Individual reports will not be open to scrutiny by anyone. The questionnaires will be filled out by housewives with the aid of members of the CVB. Each interview will be personal.

Reg. T. Ruse, Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the survey management committee, and has instructed the CVB for its survey.

"Misinformed" Says Official To Wheat Pool

The Alberta Wheat Pool should not complain if citizens should voluntarily associate themselves together at $1 each in an effort to seek more equitable income tax laws. G. S. Thorvaldson, K.C., M.L.A., Winnipeg, said in a statement released here Saturday.

Mr. Thorvaldson, president of the Income Tax Payers' association, replied in his statement to attacks attributed to the wheat pool, which he said began last month after an address delivered before the Calgary Board of Trade.

"The pool is greatly misinformed about the income tax association," he said. He charged the three western wheat pools with "an annual propaganda bill" which approached the sum of $500,000.

Mr. Thorvaldson was scheduled to speak here before the Chamber of Commerce. Due to late trains, the meeting was cancelled, as were plans to hold a luncheon meeting Saturday. He was met on arrival here by James Walker, president of the chamber, and Reg. T. Rose, executive secretary.

The statement released by Mr. Thorvaldson follows in part:

"The Income Tax Payers' association was formed with the main object of securing a more equitable distribution of the income tax burden. Some of the other objects of the association are:

PLAN STUDY TAX

(1) To investigate and study the incidence of income tax, both generally and as it may affect any particular trade, industry, business or class of individuals;

(2) To seek and obtain the simplification of income tax laws;

(3) To inform members of the association from time to time of the provisions of any income tax legislation and of any new developments in income tax law;

(4) To afford income tax payers an opportunity of acting unitedly in making representations to the proper authorities to secure relief from inequalities in income tax law or administration and to give publicity to such inequalities with a view to obtaining the redress thereof.

The exemption from income tax of co-operatives, of mutual insurance companies and of other mutual corporations, and of municipal and government owned business undertakings are examples of injustices in the existing income tax law, the redress of which would relieve all taxpayers, both individual and corporate of unfair burdens and unfair competition. But affecting the individual of moderate means more directly is the taxation of annuities as income, and of annual payments received under a will or trust, although consisting in whole or in part of capital funds.

The association believes that high rates of taxation must be accepted in wartime, but if private enterprise is to survive, such taxation must be applied equitably and in accordance with democratic principles.

DOMINION-WIDE SCALE

The Income Tax Payers' Association is organized on a Dominion-wide scale. It is not opposed to co-operatives or mutual companies, or government ownership as such; it believes every citizen should enjoy the right to organize and do business as he desires. It merely seeks equitable taxation of all forms of business enterprise, and opposes any grant of tax privileges by any government.

Parents and teachers are showing sustained interest in the work of the association. The next meeting will be held Feb. 13.

Missing

FO. Harry C. Irvine, RCAF, son of William Irvine, CCF provincial organizer, who is reported missing overseas, according to word received here Saturday. He is the CCF party's nominee for the Jasper-Edson federal riding.

District News in Brief

Fire Destroys Nordegg School

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE.—Nordegg town school burned to the ground after midnight Wednesday. The six-roomed school was well ablaze when Maurice Feys, CNR night watchman turned in the alarm. When firemen reached the school it was too late to save a thing. Cause of the fire is thought to have been an overheated furnace.

School children rushed down to the fire when they heard their parents going. Town and mine officials met first thing in the morning and school will open next Monday with two rooms in the theatre, two in the United church basement and two in a vacant warehouse. The hardest part for the teachers will be the lack of equipment and text books.

Considerable insurance was carried. No plans have been made for rebuilding.

CHILE CON CARNE IS NOT A MEXICAN DISH

Chile Con Carne is no more a Mexican dish than chop suey is Chinese, or Irish stew, Irish. It is just another American concoction, an American's idea of what the Mexicans could eat. Chile con carne originated in Texas, and has spread through the American States bordering on Texas, and may even be found across the international line in Mexico itself—but it is not a Mexican dish.

CBC Network Ban Prevents Air Monopoly

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Dr. Augustin Frigon, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said in a prepared statement yesterday that the policy of the CBC which forbids the use of networks for political purposes between elections was aimed at preventing people who can afford to buy such networks from controlling public opinion by monopolizing the air.

Dr. Frigon issued the statement in reply to Premier George Drew of Ontario who in his regular weekly radio report to the people of Ontario Thursday night charged he had been discriminated against by the CBC which invoked "idiotic and absurd" regulations to bar him from using a provincial network for an address.

The statement said in part: "It is clear that so long as Mr. Drew accepts regulations established by the board of governors of the CBC, he will enjoy the privilege of using network."

"In order that political men may reach the public through broadcasting at any time, they are permitted to use the individual private stations, provided there is a lag of three hours between broadcasts on individual stations. This is to prevent the simultaneous use of stations thereby defeating the purpose of the CBC regulations."

"In dealing with matters of this sort, the general manager of the CBC does not make regulations. It is, however, his duty to interpret them according to instructions he receives from his governors."

BOARD CAN ACT: "If he does not perform his duties as he should, it is for the board of governors to take whatever action they may see fit. If, in turn, the board does not properly discharge its responsibility toward the Canadian public, the proper place to debate the matter is before the committee of the house which is periodically appointed by parliament, or on the floor of the House itself."

Scribes Fire Questions U.S. Manpower Chairman "Unhappy" at Conference

By MARSHAL YARROW
Reuters Staff Writer.
ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, PARIS, Jan. 13.—(CP)—Paul V. McNamara, chairman of the United States war manpower commission, had an unhappy time at a press conference here yesterday when reporters flung questions at him to what could be done to increase the United States' war effort.

"We've 11,000,000 in the armed forces and 34,000,000 in the industry. How much more can you get out of a country?" McNamara asked.

When asked about the lack of nurses to which McNamara was referred in an earlier question, he replied brusquely: "We've 60,000 now, how can we get more?"

"Do you think the United States is making as full use of its manpower as Britain has?" he asked another question. "Yes," said McNamara.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

What it is
It is a PERMANENT INSURANCE plan. Employers, workers, the state, all contribute. Bonds are bought with the money. The interest earned is added to the fund. The fund now totals more than $250,000,000. Benefit is paid to unemployed, qualified persons.

What it is not
It is not a temporary war measure. Contributions are not a "tax." Benefits are not "relief." It is not just a way of raising money for the war. It is not an experiment.

Unemployment Insurance is here to stay because it is in line with all up-to-date, forward-looking methods for meeting social problems. Its planned co-operation, and its value will be demonstrated here and more as time goes on.

Edmonton units of the Canadian Army for three months previous to that time.

Following training and courses in Canada he went overseas and after several months of service returned to this country. A serious spinal injury in a motorcycle mishap put him in hospital where he remained for more than a year following honorable discharge.

A garage mechanic previous to the war he found himself unable to work at his former occupation on discharge, so he took a position with the city on Feb. 1, 1944.

As assistant inspector of licenses he is also a sworn police officer. Roy Foster, city license inspector, a veteran of the First Great War, and former star middle and distance runner, is in charge of the department.

QUITE A CHANGE

"My job is quite interesting and fully 90 per cent of the people I have business with are wonderful. But about 10 per cent are difficult. It was hard for me, accustomed to giving orders in the army, to have this 10 per cent hollering at me," Anderson said with a grin.

"I had to fight hard to keep control of myself, but I've got the thing beaten now."

Headadjustment to civilian life was not easy.

"I miss the boys and I miss the steady routine. My advice to the young fellows coming out is to settle down as quietly as possible and try to forget the army for a while at least," he said.

"A man in uniform is restricted by many regulations but at the same time he enjoys many privileges, not enjoyed by civilians. Actually, you can get away with things in uniform that you can't get away with as a civilian. A fellow returning to civilian life has to remember this or he's in for a lot of grief."

He should sensibly compare his privileges as a civilian with those he enjoyed in the service, and, that should help him to become readjusted, in the opinion of the former sergeant.

Born in Denmark, Anderson came to Edmonton in 1925 and has made his home here for most of the time since.

He is married and has four children, all boys. They are: Robert, one; Terence, four; Donald, three; and James, six.

WAS WRESTLER

A keen sportman prior to his injury, he was well known throughout the province as an amateur wrestler. He also boxed and played football.

Himself a member of the Canadian Legion, Anderson thinks every ex-serviceman should join the Legion at once.

Calls For Halt

In Tram Strike

DETROIT, Jan. 13. — (AP) — A spokesman at the International Street Railways Union headquarters said yesterday that A. L. Spalding, union president, had telegraphed to the Vancouver, B.C., local, asking its members to end their unauthorized four-day walkout.

Spalding was not available, but aides said he had requested O. A. Rowland of Oakland, Calif., general executive board member, to go to Vancouver to aid in ending the walkout.

Ambulance Brigade Tests Blood Types

Members of the St. John Ambulance Brigade have started the job of classifying the blood of 600 employees at C. Woodward Ltd., in connection with the brigade's objective of blood-typing all workers in the city. The aim is to simplify the calling of blood donors in case of an emergency and to save man-hours.

Mrs. M. Cooper is in charge of the voluntary workers of the brigade who are conducting the blood grouping. She said they can complete 24 tests an hour and the employee is then issued a card denoting his type of blood.

The blood is typed according to the international grouping and the brigade hopes this will become uniform throughout the Dominion.

Plans have been made to classify the blood of all employees in large industrial organizations in the city, civic employees and workers in the larger retail stores, to start with and later to open a clinic for the public generally.

NOTHING TO DO

WHEN the weather is cold and snow covers the ground, there isn't much for a Teenie Weenie to do but sit close to the Teenie Weenie fireplace and toast his toes. The old shoe where most of the little people live is very comfortable, but sitting in a shoe all day long becomes rather boring. Most of the Teenie Weenies like something doing, and after they have been cooped up for a while, they like to put on their Teenie Weenie earmuffs and mittens and go out in search of adventure. They love to go into big people's houses near the Teenie Weenie village, and that's how five of the little men happened to wander into Uncle Jimmy's house one afternoon.

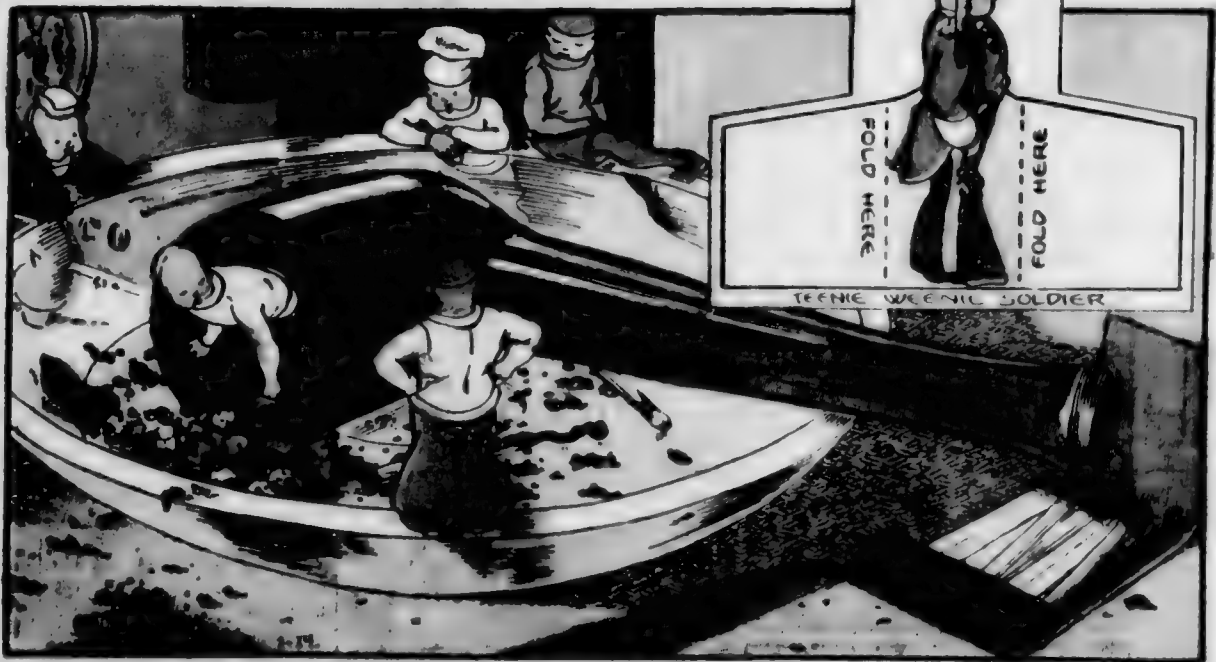

Uncle Jimmy was away at work and the little chaps had no trouble in getting into the old man's cabin. The cabin was still warm even though the fire in the stove had gone out. The Teenie Weenies wandered about, examining everything in the place. Finally, they climbed up onto a little table beside Uncle Jimmy's bed. There was an ash tray on the table, and in the tray lay Uncle Jimmy's pipe. The Duncce peered into the bowl of the pipe. "Phew!" he said. "This sure does need cleaning. I'm going to clean out Uncle Jimmy's pipe for him."

"You'd better keep away from that pipe," said the Turk, as he climbed up and set on the edge of the ash tray. "You'll get sick at the stomach if you feel around it."

"Shucks!" boasted the Duncce. "It takes more than a pipe to make me sick." Taking a burned match that lay in the ash tray, he crawled into the pipe bowl and began digging at the crusted tobacco there. In a few minutes, the Duncce stuck his head out of the bowl. He was pale and there was a light green color around his mouth. He burped and then grinned at Gogo. "This sure is a strong pipe," he said.

"Feel sort of sick?" asked the Sailor. "N.N.N. I'm not sick. Hic, I feel funny, but not sick," answered the Duncce weakly. He crawled to the edge of the ash tray, leaned over and was violently sick. He was so sick the other Teenie Weenies had to carry him home and put him into his Teenie Weenie bed. The Doctor examined him and pronounced him a very sick Teenie Weenie. "He'll be all right by tomorrow, though," said the Doctor. "But I don't think he'll be interested in pipes."
